Cal. No. 62-24-SA.

Approval of the Kleen Heet Fuel Oil Burner.

June 25, 1924.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE:

A committee of the board, consisting of Chairman Walsh, Fire Chief Kenlon and Mr. Holland, visited the premises No. 139 Kosciusko street, Brooklyn, and inspected the Kleen Heet Burner in operation.

The burner consists of a cast steel fire pot, a combustion chamber, operating with a pump and fan set and using Grade B fuel oil.

Setting the burner on the grate bars would tend to develop direct or impinging flame and excess temperature to the effect of oxidizing the boiler plates or tubes, therefore, the burner should not be set on or at the grate bar level.

The committee recommends the approval of the Kleen Heet fuel oil burner pump and fan set for use with Grade B fuel oil.

The term "story" as used above means that part of a building between any floor and the floor or roof next above;—the first story is that part of a building which is more than 50 per cent above the floor below and the floor next above the curb or average grade level.

Where the stairway extends to the top floor of the building, such partitions shall extend to the under side of the roof boarding that portion of the under side of the roof beams within the stair enclosure shall be covered with fire resisting material, except in buildings with roofs of non-combustible material, in which case the partitions shall stop at the under side of the roof.

Where the stairway is required to extend to the roof, the enclosure shall be so built as to form a bulkhead. The enclosure shall be ventilated by a skylight in the roof with louvres or ventilators, or exterior windows with ventilating sections at the top floor.

All openings in such partitions shall be provided with approved self-closing fire doors, except where such openings are in the exterior wall of the building.

The other may lead to such a stairway, or to a horizontal or grade exit, or to an exterior screened stairway, or to a fire escape conforming to section 273, Labor Law. Except that exit door shall be a fire door, with substantial steps to the sills, properly secured. WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.

Supplementary to Labor Law, § 271; originally adopted by the Industrial Commission August 28, 1913, and effective October 1, 1923; amended November 18, 1915; revised and readopted February 10, 1916, effective March 1, 1916; revised and adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals July 29, 1924.

Rule 1.—Except as herein provided, in all factory buildings five stories or less in height, erected prior to October 1, 1913, in which there are more than twenty-five persons employed above the second story, all interior stairways, serving as required means of exit, and the landings, platforms and passageways connected therewith, shall be enclosed on all sides by partitions of fire-resisting material extending continuously from the lowest point of the stairway in accordance with the following schedule:

Number of stories	Contents combustible, no sprinkler	Contents non-combustible, no sprinkler	Contents combustible, and sprinkler	Contents non-combustible and sprinkler
Three	Stairways Enclosed
Four	Stairways Enclosed	Stairways Enclosed
Five	Stairways Enclosed	Stairway Enclosed	Stairways Enclosed

The term "contents" as used above means articles, goods, wares and merchandise, packed, stored, manufactured or in the process of manufacture.

The term "combustible" as used above means articles, goods, wares or merchandise which will burn or support combustion.

The term "sprinkler" as used above means an adequate automatic sprinkler equipment installed and maintained in good working order on each floor.

The term "story" as used above means that part of a building between any floor and the floor or roof next above;—the first story is that part of a building which is more than 50 per cent above the floor below and the floor next above the curb or average grade level.

Where the stairway extends to the top floor of the building, such partitions shall extend to the under side of the roof boarding that portion of the under side of the roof beams within the stair enclosure shall be covered with fire resisting material, except in buildings with roofs of non-combustible material, in which case the partitions may stop at the under side of the roof.

Where the stairway is required to extend to the roof, the enclosure shall be so built as to form a bulkhead. The enclosure shall be ventilated by a skylight in the roof with louvres or ventilators, or exterior windows with ventilating sections at the top floor.

All openings in such partitions shall be provided with approved self-closing fire doors, except where such openings are in the exterior wall of the building.

The bottom of the enclosure shall be of fireproof material at least four inches thick unless the partition extends to the cellar bottom.

A horizontal exit, as defined in section 267 of the Labor Law, will be accepted as a compliance with this rule when both sides of the fire wall or walls are occupied on any factory floor by the same occupant.

Rule 2.—Where there are occupancies on any story or part of a story involving the storage or use below the top story of the following materials and exceeding the amount specified, and there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above such occupancy.

The interior stairway serving as required means of egress shall be enclosed on that story with fire resisting material from floor to under side of floor above, including any exposed stair soffits, landings and passageways; openings shall be provided with approved self-closing fire doors.

Nitrocellulose in any shape or form, 10 lbs.

Volatile inflammable oils, 1 gal.

Volatile inflammable mixtures, 5 gals.

Combustible mixtures, 10 gals.

Paints, varnishes and lacquers, 10 gals.

Upholstering or mattresses, manufacturing or repairing.

Cotton, rag and paper sorting, 1 ton.

Paper box manufacturing.

Restaurants and lunch rooms with cooking (not including tea, coffee or similar beverages).

The Board shall rule upon new occupancies as they arise and pass upon points under dispute.

When more than two stories are to be segregated, as above, the entire stairway shall be enclosed in fire-resisting material where there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above the first story.

Rule 3.—Required Exits and Enclosures of Stairways in Two-story Factory Buildings.

1. Required Exits.—In every two-story factory building erected prior to October 1, 1913, in which more than five persons are employed at manufacturing, there shall be provided from each story at least two means of exit or escape from fire remote from each other, one of which from every floor above or below grade shall lead to or open on an interior stairway which shall be enclosed, as hereinafter provided, or on an exterior enclosed stairway. The other may lead to such a stairway, or to a horizontal or grade exit, or to an exterior screened stairway, or to a fire escape conforming to section 273, Labor Law. Except that exit door shall be a fire door, with substantial steps to the sills, properly secured. When sill is more than 8 inches above the floor level, and where there is no safe egress from the roof, a gooseneck ladder shall be provided from top balcony to the roof.

Unobstructed egress from the foot of the fire escape or exterior screened stairway shall be as required by section 273, Labor Law, or to open adjoining yard with egress to the street. No point on any floor of such building shall be more than one hundred and fifty (150) feet distant from such an exit.

Rule 4.—Enclosure of Stairways.—In two-story buildings where there are occupancies on any story or part of a story involving the storage or use below the top story of any of the materials exceeding the amounts specified in Rule 2 and there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above such occupancy, all interior stairways serving as required means of exit shall be enclosed from the lowest point of such stairway to the ceiling of the first floor by partitions of fire-resisting material unless the building is provided with a wet sprinkler system, in which case such enclosure of stairways shall not be required. Such enclosures shall lead directly to a door opening outwardly to a street or road, or an open area affording unobstructed passage to a street or road. All openings in such enclosure shall be provided with fire door equipped with self-closing devices.

All reference herein to "Enclosure of Stairways" shall be considered as applying only to required stairways.

Rule 5.—Storage of Combustible Material About Factory Stairways.

In all factory buildings no articles or wares of any nature shall be kept or stored inside the limits of an stairway enclosure or unenclosed stairway, or on the landings, platforms or passageways connected therewith.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.

ENCLOSURE OF FACTORY STAIRWAYS

(410-24-SR)

Supplementary to Labor Law, § 271; originally adopted by the Industrial Commission August 28, 1913, and effective October 1, 1923; amended November 18, 1915; revised and readopted February 10, 1916, effective March 1, 1916; revised and adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals July 29, 1924.

Rule 1.—Except as herein provided, in all factory buildings five stories or less in height, erected prior to October 1, 1913, in which there are more than twenty-five persons employed above the second story, all interior stairways, serving as required means of exit, and the landings, platforms and passageways connected therewith, shall be enclosed on all sides by partitions of fire-resisting material extending continuously from the lowest point of the stairway in accordance with the following schedule:

Number of stories	Contents combustible, no sprinkler	Contents non-combustible, no sprinkler	Contents combustible, and sprinkler	Contents non-combustible, and sprinkler
Three	Stairways Enclosed
Four	Stairways Enclosed	Stairways Enclosed
Five	Stairways Enclosed	Stairway Enclosed	Stairways Enclosed

The term "contents" as used above means articles, goods, wares and merchandise, packed, stored, manufactured or in the process of manufacture.

The term "combustible" as used above means articles, goods, wares or merchandise which will burn or support combustion.

The term "sprinkler" as used above means an adequate automatic sprinkler equipment installed and maintained in good working order on each floor.

The term "story" as used above means that part of a building between any floor and the floor or roof next above;—the first story is that part of a building which is more than 50 per cent above the floor below and the floor next above the curb or average grade level.

Where the stairway extends to the top floor of the building, such partitions shall extend to the under side of the roof boarding that portion of the under side of the roof beams within the stair enclosure shall be covered with fire resisting material, except in buildings with roofs of non-combustible material, in which case the partitions may stop at the under side of the roof.

Where the stairway is required to extend to the roof, the enclosure shall be so built as to form a bulkhead. The enclosure shall be ventilated by a skylight in the roof with louvers or ventilators, or exterior windows with ventilating sections at the top floor.

All openings in such partitions shall be provided with approved self-closing fire doors, except where such openings are in the exterior wall of the building.

The bottom of the enclosure shall be of fireproof material at least four inches thick unless the partition extends to the cellar bottom.

A horizontal exit, as defined in section 267 of the Labor Law, will be accepted as a compliance with this rule when both sides of the fire wall or walls are occupied on any factory floor by the same occupant.

Rule 2.—Where there are occupancies on any story or part of a story involving the storage or use below the top story of the following materials and exceeding the amount specified, and there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above such occupancy.

The interior stairway serving as required means of egress shall be enclosed on that story with fire resisting material from floor to under side of floor above, including any exposed stair soffits, landings and passageways; openings shall be provided with approved self-closing fire doors.

Nitrocellulose in any shape or form, 10 lbs.

Volatile inflammable oils, 1 gal.

Volatile inflammable mixtures, 5 gals.

Combustible mixtures, 10 gals.

Paints, varnishes and lacquers, 10 gals.

Upholstering or mattresses, manufacturing or repairing.

Cotton, rag and paper sorting, 1 ton.

Paper box manufacturing.

Restaurants and lunch rooms with cooking (not including tea, coffee or similar beverages).

The Board shall rule upon new occupancies as they arise and pass upon points under dispute.

When more than two stories are to be segregated, as above, the entire stairway shall be enclosed in fire-resisting material where there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above the first story.

Rule 3.—Required Exits and Enclosures of Stairways in Two-story Factory Buildings.

1. Required Exits.—In every two-story factory building erected prior to October 1, 1913, in which more than five persons are employed at manufacturing, there shall be provided from each story at least two means of exit or escape from fire remote from each other, one of which from every floor above or below grade shall lead to or open on an interior stairway which shall be enclosed, as hereinafter provided, or on an exterior enclosed stairway. The other may lead to such a stairway, or to a horizontal or grade exit, or to an exterior screened stairway, or to a fire escape conforming to section 273, Labor Law. Except that exit door shall be a fire door, with substantial steps to the sills, properly secured. When sill is more than 8 inches above the floor level, and where there is no safe egress from the roof, a gooseneck ladder shall be provided from top balcony to the roof.

Unobstructed egress from the foot of the fire escape or exterior screened stairway shall be as required by section 273, Labor Law, or to open adjoining yard with egress to the street. No point on any floor of such building shall be more than one hundred and fifty (150) feet distant from such an exit.

Rule 4.—Enclosure of Stairways.—In two-story buildings where there are occupancies on any story or part of a story involving the storage or use below the top story of any of the materials exceeding the amounts specified in Rule 2 and there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above such occupancy, all interior stairways serving as required means of exit shall be enclosed from the lowest point of such stairway to the ceiling of the first floor by partitions of fire-resisting material, unless the building is provided with a wet sprinkler system, in which case such enclosure of stairways shall not be required. Such enclosures shall lead directly to a door opening outwardly to a street or road, or an open area affording unobstructed passage to a street or road. All openings in such enclosure shall be provided with fire doors equipped with self-closing devices.

All reference herein to "Enclosure of Stairways" shall be considered as applying only to required stairways.

Rule 5.—Storage of Combustible Material About Factory Stairways.

In all factory buildings no articles or wares of any nature shall be kept or stored inside the limits of any stairway enclosure or unenclosed stairway, or on the landings, platforms or passageways connected therewith.

AMENDMENT

Ordinance Adopted by the Board of Aldermen Amending Sections 524, 526, 527 and 530 of Article 25 and Section 581 of Article 28 of Chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances, the Building Code, Relating to "Theatres and Other Places of Amusement" and "Fire Extinguishing Appliances."

Section 1. Section 524 of article 25 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances is hereby amended to read as follows:

§524. Fire-extinguishing appliances.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, in every building described in section 520 of this article and not now equipped with a standpipe fire extinguishing equipment approved by the fire commissioner, there shall be provided:

1. Hose. There shall always be kept attached to each hose outlet valve, as the fire commissioner may direct, a proper and sufficient quantity of two and one-half inch hose fitted with regulation couplings of the fire department, with nozzles attached thereto, and a hose spanner at each outlet.

2. Sprinkler system. A separate and distinct system of automatic sprinklers, with fusible struts, approved by the fire commissioner as conforming to the provisions of the rules of the board of standards and appeals governing sprinkler installations, supplied with water from a tank located on the roof over the stage and not connected in any manner with standpipes, shall be placed on the ceiling or roof over the stage at such intervals as will protect every square foot of stage surface when sprinklers are in operation, and an additional line of sprinkler heads on the stage side of the proscenium opening. Automatic sprinklers shall also be placed, wherever practicable, in the dressing rooms, under the stage and in the carpenter shop, paint rooms, store-rooms and property rooms.

3. Standpipes. Standpipes, 4 inches in diameter, with hose attachments, shall be provided on every floor and gallery as follows, namely: One on each side of the auditorium in each tier, one in each mezzanine, one on each side of the stage in each tier, one in each tier of dressing rooms, and at least one in the property room and one in the carpenter's shop. All such standpipes shall be kept clear from obstructions. Said standpipes shall be separate and distinct receiving their supply of water direct from a separate gravity tank of 3,500 gallons capacity located above the roof and from a fire pump and shall be fitted with regulation couplings of the fire department, and shall be kept constantly filled with water by means of an automatic fire pump of sufficient capacity as prescribed in the rules of the board of standards and appeals. Said pump shall be supplied from the street main and be ready for immediate use at all times during any performance in said building, except that any theatre having not more than one balcony, with no occupancy above the auditorium, used exclusively for the exhibition of motion pictures, and having no stage, dressing rooms, nor scenery, shall not be required to have a fire pump, unless required to fill the standpipe supply tank as prescribed in rules of the board of standards and appeals. In addition to the requirements contained in this section the standpipe shall also conform to the requirements contained in section 581 of this chapter.

4. Miscellaneous. There shall also be kept in readiness for immediate use on the stage, at least 4 casks full of water, and 2 buckets to each cask. Such casks and buckets shall be painted red. There shall also be provided hand pumps or other portable fire extinguishing apparatus and at least 4 axes and 2 25-foot hooks, 2 15-foot hooks and 2 10-foot hooks on each tier or floor of the stage.

Exemptions—Buildings, used exclusively for the exhibition of moving pictures, not more than one story in height and not exceeding 15,000 square feet in area, having access to two streets, with no other business on premises, excepting stores occupying not more than 10 per cent. of the area, and having no stage, dressing rooms, nor scenery, shall not be required to provide gravity tank supply for the standpipe fire lines, nor sprinkler system, when there is a four-inch direct connected standpipe equipment to a city water main fed two ways, or one connection on each of two street fronts, each main so fed that the shutting off of the supply of one main will not interfere with the supply of the other main, and having sufficient pressure to maintain a minimum of 30 pounds per square inch static pressure at the highest outlet, provided evidence is submitted establishing the fact that the water main pressure is as required. The standpipe equipment shall be provided with regulation fire department 3-inch siamese connection.

Buildings as described in this exemption will be required to have standpipes so placed that not more than 100 feet of hose shall be required to reach all parts of the auditorium.

A stadium construction may be deemed a one-story building, on condition the seats are so arranged that they shall not at the floor level of the highest row be more than 15 feet above the lowest floor level of the auditorium, provided, however, the gradient of the auditorium floor does not exceed one foot in 12 feet.

Sec. 2. Subdivision 1 of section 526 of article 25 chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances is hereby amended to read as follows:

§526. Lights.

1. Adequacy. Every portion of the building devoted to the uses or accommodations of the public, also means of egress leading to the streets and including the open courts and corridors, shall be well and properly lighted during every performance, and the same shall remain lighted until the entire audience has left the premises. When interior gas lights are not lighted electricity, other suitable appliances, approved by the superintendent of buildings, shall be provided.

Sec. 3. Subdivision 1 of section 527 of article 25 chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances is hereby amended to read as follows:

§527. Means of egress.

1. Exits to streets. Every theatre accommodating 300 persons shall have at least two exits; when accommodating 500 persons, at least three exits shall be provided; these exits not referring to nor including the exits to the open court at the side of the theatre. Every such building shall have one or more fronts to the streets, and in such fronts there shall be suitable means of entrance and exit for the audience, aggregating not less than 25 feet in width. The entrance to the main front of the building shall be not more than one foot above the sidewalk level unless approved by the superintendent of buildings. Each exit shall be at least five feet in width in the clear and provided with doors of iron or wood; if of wood, the doors shall be constructed as hereinbefore prescribed in this chapter. All of said doors shall open outwardly, and shall be fastened with panic bolts or other approved device which will open when one or more persons press against inner side of said door.

Sec. 4. Section 530 of article 25 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances relating to "protective curtain," hereby amended by adding the following lines at the end thereof:

(b) Satisfactory proof must be submitted and filed with application that curtain is capable of withstanding a temperature of not less than 1,700 degrees F. for a period of 45 minutes.

AMENDMENT

Sec. 5. Section 581 of article 28 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances is hereby amended to read as follows:

§581. Standpipes.

1. Standpipes, constructed and installed as hereinafter required and as prescribed in rules of the board of standards and appeals shall be provided:

a. Unchanged.

b. Unchanged.

c. In every building exceeding 10,000 square feet in area, except in buildings specifically exempted in article 25 of this chapter and buildings of not more than one story in height not exceeding 15,000 square feet in area and occupied solely as places of religious worship; and except in fireproof buildings not over four stories or 45 feet in height when such buildings are equipped with an approved two-source supply automatic sprinkler system, and are not of an occupancy deemed unusually hazardous by the fire commissioner.

d. In amusement or exhibition parks or enclosures when deemed necessary by the fire commissioner.

e. In oil storage plants, ship-yards, and other industrial plants of an area in excess of 10,000 square feet.

2. Unchanged.

3. Number and Location. The number of standpipes in any building shall be such that all parts of each story are within the reach of at least one stream supplied by hose not exceeding 100 feet in length.

When a building requiring standpipes faces on more than one street, at least one standpipe shall be installed for each street front, provided that for intersecting street fronts, one standpipe shall be sufficient for each intersection, when all portions of each area may be reached by a stream from 100 feet of hose. So far as practicable, standpipes shall be placed within stair enclosures, otherwise they shall be as near the stair as possible. All standpipes shall extend from the lower story to and above the roof.

In buildings not exceeding 40 feet in height and not over 20,000 square feet in area gravity tank may be omitted provided the standpipe riser is supplied by not less than 4-inch connection to street main having not less than 45-pound pressure.

4. Construction. All standpipes hereinafter installed shall be constructed as prescribed by the rules of the board of standards and appeals and shall be provided with such outlets and equipped with such appliances as required by said rules. All standpipes shall extend to the street and shall be provided with approved siamese connections. In buildings not exceeding 45 feet in height, siamese connections will not be required. When there is more than one standpipe in any building, they shall be cross-connected in an approved manner below the sidewalk level, or if there is no cellar, they shall be cross-connected below the ceiling of the basement or lowest story.

Sec. 6. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

RULES ADOPTED

ENCLOSURE OF FACTORY STAIRWAYS

(410-24-SR)

Supplementary to Labor Law, § 271; originally adopted by the Industrial Commission August 28, 1913, and effective October 1, 1923; amended November 18, 1915; revised and readopted February 10, 1916, effective March 1, 1916; revised and adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals July 29, 1924.

Rule 1.—Except as herein provided, in all factory buildings five stories or less in height, erected prior to October 1, 1913, in which there are more than twenty persons employed above the second story, all interior stairways, serving as required means of exit, and the landings, platforms and passageways connected therewith, shall be enclosed on all sides by partitions of fire-resisting material extending continuously from the lowest point of the stairway in accordance with the following schedule:

Number of stories	Contents combustible, no sprinkler	Contents non-combustible, no sprinkler	Contents combustible, and sprinkler	Contents non-combustible, and sprinkler
Three	Stairways Enclosed
Four	Stairways Enclosed	Stairways Enclosed
Five	Stairways Enclosed	Stairway Enclosed	Stairways Enclosed

The term "contents" as used above means articles, goods, wares and merchandise, packed, stored, manufactured or in the process of manufacture.

The term "combustible" as used above means articles, goods, wares or merchandise which will burn or support combustion.

The term "sprinkler" as used above means an adequate automatic sprinkler equipment installed and maintained in good working order on each floor.

The term "story" as used above means that part of a building between any floor and the floor or roof next above;—the first story is that part of a building which is more than 50 per cent above the floor below and the floor or next above the curb or average grade level.

Where the stairway extends to the top floor of the building, such partitions shall extend to the under side of the roof boarding that portion of the under side of the roof beams within the stair enclosure shall be covered with fire resisting material, except in buildings with roofs of non-combustible material, in which case the partitions shall stop at the under side of the roof.

Where the stairway is required to extend to the roof, the enclosure shall be so built as to form a bulkhead. The enclosure shall be ventilated by a skylight in the roof with louvers or ventilators, or exterior windows with ventilating sections at the top floor.

All openings in such partitions shall be provided with approved self-closing fire doors, except where such openings are in the exterior wall of the building.

The bottom of the enclosure shall be of fireproof material at least four inches thick unless the partition extends to the cellar bottom.

A horizontal exit, as defined in section 267 of the Labor Law, will be accepted as a compliance with this rule when both sides of the fire wall or walls are occupied by any factory floor by the same occupant.

Rule 2.—Where there are occupancies on any story or part of a story involving the storage or use below the top story of the following materials and exceeding the amount specified, and there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above such occupancy.

The interior stairway serving as required means of egress shall be enclosed on that story with fire resisting material from floor to under side of floor above, including any exposed stair soffits, landings and passageways; openings shall be provided with approved self-closing fire doors.

Nitrocellulose in any shape or form, 10 lbs.

Volatile inflammable oils, 1 gal.

Volatile inflammable mixtures, 5 gals.

Combustible mixtures, 10 gals.

Paints, varnishes and lacquers, 10 gals.

Upholstering or mattresses, manufacturing or repairing.

Cotton, rag and paper sorting, 1 ton.

Paper box manufacturing.

Restaurants and lunch rooms with cooking (not including tea, coffee or similar beverages).

The Board shall rule upon new occupancies as they arise and pass upon points under dispute.

When more than two stories are to be segregated, as above, the entire stairway shall be enclosed in fire-resisting material where there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above the first story.

Rule 3.—Required Exits and Enclosures of Stairways in Two-story Factory Buildings.

1. Required Exits.—In every two-story factory building erected prior to October 1, 1913, in which more than five persons are employed at manufacturing, there shall be provided from each story at least two means of exit or escape from fire remote from each other, one of which from every floor above or below grade shall lead to or open on an interior stairway which shall be enclosed, as hereinafter provided, or on an exterior enclosed stairway. The other may lead to such a stairway, or to a horizontal or grade exit, or to an exterior screened stairway, or to a fire escape conforming to section 273, Labor Law. Except that exit door shall be a fire door, with substantial steps to the sills, properly secured. When sill is more than 8 inches above the floor level, and where there is no safe egress from the roof, a gooseneck ladder shall be provided from top balcony to the roof.

Unobstructed egress from the foot of the fire escape or exterior screened stairway shall be as required by section 273, Labor Law, or to open adjoining yard with egress to the street. No point on any floor of such building shall be more than one hundred and fifty (150) feet distant from such an exit.

Rule 4.—Enclosure of Stairways.—In two-story buildings where there are occupancies on any story or part of a story involving the storage or use below the top story of any of the materials exceeding the amounts specified in Rule 2 and there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above such occupancy, all interior stairways serving as required means of exit shall be enclosed from the lowest point of such stairway to the ceiling of the first floor by partitions of fire-resisting material, unless the building is provided with a wet sprinkler system, in which case such enclosure of stairways shall not be required. Such enclosures shall lead directly to a door opening outwardly to a street or road, or an open area affording unobstructed passage to a street or road. All openings in such enclosure shall be provided with fire doors equipped with self-closing devices.

All reference herein to "Enclosure of Stairways" shall be considered as applying only to required stairways.

Rule 5.—Storage of Combustible Material About Factory Stairways.

In all factory buildings no articles or wares of any nature shall be kept or stored inside the limits of any stairway enclosure or unenclosed stairway, or on the landings, platforms or passageways connected therewith.

AMENDMENT

Ordinance Adopted by the Board of Aldermen Amending Sections 524, 526, 527 and 530 of Article 25 and Section 581 of Article 28 of Chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances, the Building Code, Relating to "Theatres and Other Places of Amusement" and "Fire Extinguishing Appliances."

Section 1. Section 524 of article 25 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances is hereby amended to read as follows:

§524. Fire-extinguishing appliances.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, in every building described in section 520 of this article and not now equipped with a standpipe fire extinguishing equipment approved by the fire commissioner, there shall be provided:

1. Hose. There shall always be kept attached to each hose outlet valve, as the fire commissioner may direct, a proper and sufficient quantity of two and one-half inch hose fitted with regulation couplings of the fire department, with nozzles attached thereto, and a hose spanner at each outlet.

2. Sprinkler system. A separate and distinct system of automatic sprinklers, with fusible struts, approved by the fire commissioner as conforming to the provisions of the rules of the board of standards and appeals governing sprinkler installations, supplied with water from a tank located on the roof over the stage and not connected in any manner with standpipes, shall be placed on the ceiling or roof over the stage at such intervals as will protect every square foot of stage surface when sprinklers are in operation, and an additional line of sprinkler heads on the stage side of the proscenium opening. Automatic sprinklers shall also be placed, wherever practicable, in the dressing rooms, under the stage and in the carpenter shop, paint rooms, store-rooms and property rooms.

3. Standpipes. Standpipes, 4 inches in diameter, with hose attachments, shall be provided on every floor and gallery as follows, namely: One on each side of the auditorium in each tier, one in each mezzanine, one on each side of the stage in each tier, one in each tier of dressing rooms, and at least one in the property room and one in the carpenter's shop. All such standpipes shall be kept clear from obstructions. Said standpipes shall be separate and distinct receiving their supply of water direct from a separate gravity tank of 3,500 gallons capacity located above the roof and from a fire pump and shall be fitted with regulation couplings of the fire department, and shall be kept constantly filled with water by means of an automatic fire pump of sufficient capacity as prescribed in the rules of the board of standards and appeals. Said pump shall be supplied from the street main and be ready for immediate use at all times during any performance in said building, except that any theatre having not more than one balcony, with no occupancy above the auditorium, used exclusively for the exhibition of motion pictures, and having no stage, dressing rooms, nor scenery, shall not be required to have a fire pump, unless required to fill the standpipe supply tank as prescribed in rules of the board of standards and appeals. In addition to the requirements contained in this section the standpipe shall also conform to the requirements contained in section 581 of this chapter.

4. Miscellaneous. There shall also be kept in readiness for immediate use on the stage, at least 4 casks full of water, and 2 buckets to each cask. Such casks and buckets shall be painted red. There shall also be provided hand pumps or other portable fire extinguishing apparatus and at least 4 axes and 2 25-foot hooks, 2 15-foot hooks and 2 10-foot hooks on each tier or floor of the stage.

Exemptions—Buildings, used exclusively for the exhibition of moving pictures, not more than one story in height and not exceeding 15,000 square feet in area, having access to two streets, with no other business on premises, excepting stores occupying not more than 10 per cent. of the area, and having no stage, dressing rooms, nor scenery, shall not be required to provide a gravity tank supply for the standpipe fire lines, nor a sprinkler system, when there is a four-inch direct connected standpipe equipment to a city water main fed two ways, or one connection on each of two street fronts, each main so fed that the shutting off of the supply of one main will not interfere with the supply of the other main, and having sufficient pressure to maintain a minimum of 30 pounds per square inch static pressure at the highest outlet, provided evidence is submitted establishing the fact that the water main pressure is as required. The standpipe equipment shall be provided with regulation fire department 3-inch siamese connection.

Buildings as described in this exemption will be required to have standpipes so placed that not more than 100 feet of hose shall be required to reach all parts of the auditorium.

A stadium construction may be deemed a one-story building, on condition the seats are so arranged that they shall not at the floor level of the highest row be more than 15 feet above the lowest floor level of the auditorium, provided, however, the gradient of the auditorium floor does not exceed one foot in 12 feet.

Sec. 2. Subdivision 1 of section 526 of article 25 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances is hereby amended to read as follows:

§526. Lights.

1. Adequacy. Every portion of the building devoted to the uses or accommodations of the public, also all means of egress leading to the streets and including the open courts and corridors, shall be well and properly lighted during every performance, and the same shall remain lighted until the entire audience has left the premises. When interior gas lights are not lighted by electricity, other suitable appliances, approved by the superintendent of buildings, shall be provided.

Sec. 3. Subdivision 1 of section 527 of article 25 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances is hereby amended to read as follows:

§527. Means of egress.

1. Exits to streets. Every theatre accommodating 300 persons shall have at least two exits; when accommodating 500 persons, at least three exits shall be provided; these exits not referring to nor including the exits to the open court at the side of the theatre. Every such building shall have one or more fronts on the streets, and in such fronts there shall be suitable means of entrance and exit for the audience, aggregating not less than 25 feet in width. The entrance of the main front of the building shall be not more than one foot above the sidewalk level unless approved by the superintendent of buildings. Each exit shall be at least five feet in width in the clear and provided with doors of iron or wood; if of wood, the doors shall be constructed as hereinbefore prescribed in this chapter. All of said doors shall open outwardly, and shall be fastened with panic bolts or other approved devices which will open when one or more persons press against inner side of said door.

Sec. 4. Section 530 of article 25 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances relating to "protective curtain," is hereby amended by adding the following lines at the end thereof:

(b) Satisfactory proof must be submitted and filed with application that curtain is capable of withstanding a temperature of not less than 1,700 degrees F. for a period of 45 minutes.

AMENDMENT

Sec. 5. Section 581 of article 28 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances is hereby amended to read as follows:

§581. Standpipes.

1. Standpipes, constructed and installed as herein-after required and as prescribed in rules of the board of standards and appeals shall be provided:

a. Unchanged.

b. Unchanged.

c. In every building exceeding 10,000 square feet in area, except in buildings specifically exempted in article 25 of this chapter and buildings of not more than one story in height not exceeding 15,000 square feet in area and occupied solely as places of religious worship; and except in fireproof buildings not over four stories or 45 feet in height when such buildings are equipped with an approved two-source supply automatic sprinkler system, and are not of an occupancy deemed unusually hazardous by the fire commissioner.

d. In amusement or exhibition parks or enclosures when deemed necessary by the fire commissioner.

e. In oil storage plants, ship-yards, and other industrial plants of an area in excess of 10,000 square feet.

2. Unchanged.

3. Number and Location. The number of standpipes in any building shall be such that all parts of each story are within the reach of at least one stream supplied by hose not exceeding 100 feet in length.

When a building requiring standpipes faces on more than one street, at least one standpipe shall be installed for each street front, provided that for intersecting street fronts, one standpipe shall be sufficient for each intersection, when all portions of each area may be reached by a stream from 100 feet of hose. So far as practicable, standpipes shall be placed within stair enclosures, otherwise they shall be as near the stair as possible. All standpipes shall extend from the lower story to and above the roof.

In buildings not exceeding 40 feet in height and not over 20,000 square feet in area gravity tank may be omitted provided the standpipe riser is supplied by not less than 4-inch connection to street main having not less than 45-pound pressure.

4. Construction. All standpipes hereinafter installed shall be constructed as prescribed by the rules of the board of standards and appeals and shall be provided with such outlets and equipped with such appliances as required by said rules. All standpipes shall extend to the street and shall be provided with approved siamese connections. In buildings not exceeding 45 feet in height, siamese connections will not be required. When there is more than one standpipe in any building, they shall be cross-connected in an approved manner below the sidewalk level, or if there is no cellar, they shall be cross-connected below the ceiling of the basement or lowest story.

Sec. 6. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

RULES ADOPTED

AMENDMENTS TO THE FIRE ESCAPE RULES—RULES RELATING TO SUBSTANDARD EXITS.

(Cal. No. 414-24-SR)

Rule 3 of Fire Escape Rules of Board of Standards and Appeals, adopted July 2, 1918, Cal. No. 1218-18-S; Amended Dec. 12, 1918, Cal. No. 1708-18-S; Amended May 9, 1924; Cal. No. 414-24-SR.

EXISTING FIRE ESCAPES OF FACTORIES.

3. When in addition to the required exits from any factory or factory building, there exist other means of egress which are not entirely in accordance with the requirements of the Labor Law and the Rules of the Board of Standards and Appeals, such means of egress may be retained under the following conditions.

(a) Fire Escapes.—All substandard fire escapes on factory buildings shall be removed or reconstructed in accordance with Section 274 of the Labor Law, except that in lieu of a counterbalanced stair a drop ladder in guides from the lowest balcony to ground may be provided. Substandard fire escapes shall not be considered as a basis for increased occupancy of the building. When such substandard fire escapes are located in any court or on the side or rear of a building, proper egress to a point of safety shall be provided, either to open adjoining yards, or the lowest balcony may be connected to an adjoining fire escape, exterior stairway, or to roof of adjoining extension, or other egress satisfactory to the Fire Commissioner. All such fire escapes shall be maintained structurally safe and properly painted.

(b) Interior Stairways—All interior stairways not conforming to the requirements of the Labor Law or rules of the Board of Standards and Appeals may be retained, provided that egress to same is maintained unobstructed, halls are properly lighted, and all landings, passageways, etc., are maintained free and unobstructed. An easily operated panic bolt or other similar device may be installed at street exit door.

(c) Exterior Screened Stairways—Exterior screened stairways not serving as a required means of egress shall be either removed or maintained structurally safe and properly painted, exits thereto and all platforms and passageways thereof shall be maintained unobstructed, and egress from termination shall be as provided for substandard fire escapes in subdivision a.

(d) Horizontal Bridges—Horizontal bridges and party wall balconies between buildings shall be removed or maintained structurally safe and properly painted, and access thereto and all passageways thereof shall be maintained unobstructed.

(e) No sign of any character shall be placed at openings leading to these substandard exits.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in offices of the board and of the further publication of calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

RULES ADOPTED

ENCLOSURE OF FACTORY STAIRWAYS

(410-24-SR)

Supplementary to Labor Law, § 271; originally adopted by the Industrial Commission August 28, 1913, and effective October 1, 1923; amended November 18, 1915; revised and readopted February 10, 1916, effective March 1, 1916; revised and adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals July 29, 1924.

Rule 1.—Except as herein provided, in all factory buildings five stories or less in height, erected prior to October 1, 1913, in which there are more than twenty-five persons employed above the second story, all interior stairways, serving as required means of exit, and the landings, platforms and passageways connected therewith, shall be enclosed on all sides by partitions of fire-resisting material extending continuously from the lowest point of the stairway in accordance with the following schedule:

Number of stories	Contents combustible, no sprinkler	Contents non-combustible, no sprinkler	Contents combustible, and sprinkler	Contents non-combustible, and sprinkler
Three	Stairways Enclosed
Four	Stairways Enclosed	Stairways Enclosed
Five	Stairways Enclosed	Stairway Enclosed	Stairways Enclosed

The term "contents" as used above means articles, goods, wares and merchandise, packed, stored, manufactured or in the process of manufacture.

The term "combustible" as used above means articles, goods, wares or merchandise which will burn or support combustion.

The term "sprinkler" as used above means an adequate automatic sprinkler equipment installed and maintained in good working order on each floor.

The term "story" as used above means that part of a building between any floor and the floor or roof next above;—the first story is that part of a building which is more than 50 per cent above the floor below and the floor next above the curb or average grade level.

Where the stairway extends to the top floor of the building, such partitions shall extend to the under side of the roof boarding that portion of the under side of the roof beams within the stair enclosure shall be covered with fire resisting material, except in buildings with roofs of non-combustible material, in which case the partitions may stop at the under side of the roof.

Where the stairway is required to extend to the roof, the enclosure shall be so built as to form a bulkhead. The enclosure shall be ventilated by a skylight in the roof with louvres or ventilators, or exterior windows with ventilating sections at the top floor.

All openings in such partitions shall be provided with approved self-closing fire doors, except where such openings are in the exterior wall of the building.

The bottom of the enclosure shall be of fireproof material at least four inches thick unless the partition extends to the cellar bottom.

A horizontal exit, as defined in section 267 of the Labor Law, will be accepted as a compliance with this rule when both sides of the fire wall or walls are occupied on any factory floor by the same occupant.

Rule 2.—Where there are occupancies on any story or part of a story involving the storage or use below the top story of the following materials and exceeding the amount specified, and there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above such occupancy.

The interior stairway serving as required means of egress shall be enclosed on that story with fire resisting material from floor to under side of floor above, including any exposed stair soffits, landings and passageways; openings shall be provided with approved self-closing fire doors.

Nitrocellulose in any shape or form, 10 lbs.

Volatile inflammable oils, 1 gal.

Volatile inflammable mixtures, 5 gals.

Combustible mixtures, 10 gals.

Paints, varnishes and lacquers, 10 gals.

Upholstering or mattresses, manufacturing or repairing.

Cotton, rag and paper sorting, 1 ton.

Paper box manufacturing.

Restaurants and lunch rooms with cooking (not including tea, coffee or similar beverages).

The Board shall rule upon new occupancies as they arise and pass upon points under dispute.

When more than two stories are to be segregated, as above, the entire stairway shall be enclosed in fire-resisting material where there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above the first story.

Rule 3.—Required Exits and Enclosures of Stairways in Two-story Factory Buildings.

1. Required Exits.—In every two-story factory building erected prior to October 1, 1913, in which more than five persons are employed at manufacturing, there shall be provided from each story at least two means of exit or escape from fire remote from each other, one of which from every floor above or below grade shall lead to or open on an interior stairway which shall be enclosed, as hereinafter provided, or on an exterior enclosed stairway. The other may lead to such a stairway, or to a horizontal or grade exit, or to an exterior screened stairway, or to a fire escape conforming to section 273, Labor Law. Except that exit door shall be a fire door, with substantial steps to the sills, properly secured. When sill is more than 8 inches above the floor level, and where there is no safe egress from the roof, a gooseneck ladder shall be provided from top balcony to the roof.

Unobstructed egress from the foot of the fire escape or exterior screened stairway shall be as required by section 273, Labor Law, or to open adjoining yard with egress to the street. No point on any floor of such building shall be more than one hundred and fifty (150) feet distant from such an exit.

Rule 4.—Enclosure of Stairways.—In two-story buildings where there are occupancies on any story or part of a story involving the storage or use below the top story of any of the materials exceeding the amounts specified in Rule 2 and there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above such occupancy, all interior stairways serving as required means of exit shall be enclosed from the lowest point of such stairway to the ceiling of the first floor by partitions of fire-resisting material, unless the building is provided with a wet sprinkler system, in which case such enclosure of stairways shall not be required. Such enclosures shall lead directly to a door opening outwardly to a street or road, or an open area affording unobstructed passage to a street or road. All openings in such enclosure shall be provided with fire doors equipped with self-closing devices.

All reference herein to "Enclosure of Stairways" shall be considered as applying only to required stairways.

Rule 5.—Storage of Combustible Material About Factory Stairways.

In all factory buildings no articles or wares of any nature shall be kept or stored inside the limits of any stairway enclosure or unenclosed stairway, or on the landings, platforms or passageways connected therewith.

AMENDMENT

Ordinance Adopted by the Board of Aldermen Amending Sections 524, 526, 527 and 530 of Article 25 and Section 581 of Article 28 of Chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances, the Building Code, Relating to "Theatres and Other Places of Amusement" and "Fire Extinguishing Appliances."

Section 1. Section 524 of article 25 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances is hereby amended to read as follows:

§524. Fire-extinguishing appliances.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, in every building described in section 520 of this article and not now equipped with a standpipe fire extinguishing equipment approved by the fire commissioner, there shall be provided:

1. Hose. There shall always be kept attached to each hose outlet valve, as the fire commissioner may direct, a proper and sufficient quantity of two and one-half inch hose fitted with regulation couplings of the fire department, with nozzles attached thereto, and a hose spanner at each outlet.

2. Sprinkler system. A separate and distinct system of automatic sprinklers, with fusible struts, approved by the fire commissioner as conforming to the provisions of the rules of the board of standards and appeals governing sprinkler installations, supplied with water from a tank located on the roof over the stage and not connected in any manner with standpipes, shall be placed on the ceiling or roof over the stage at such intervals as will protect every square foot of stage surface when sprinklers are in operation, and an additional line of sprinkler heads on the stage side of the proscenium opening. Automatic sprinklers shall also be placed, wherever practicable, in the dressing rooms, under the stage and in the carpenter shop, paint rooms, store-rooms and property rooms.

3. Standpipes. Standpipes, 4 inches in diameter, with hose attachments, shall be provided on every floor and gallery as follows, namely: One on each side of the auditorium in each tier, one in each mezzanine, one on each side of the stage in each tier, one in each tier of dressing rooms, and at least one in the property room and one in the carpenter's shop. All such standpipes shall be kept clear from obstructions. Said standpipes shall be separate and distinct receiving their supply of water direct from a separate gravity tank of 3,500 gallons capacity located above the roof and from a fire pump and shall be fitted with regulation couplings of the fire department, and shall be kept constantly filled with water by means of an automatic fire pump of sufficient capacity as prescribed in the rules of the board of standards and appeals. Said pump shall be supplied from the street main and be ready for immediate use at all times during any performance in said building, except that any theatre having not more than one balcony, with no occupancy above the auditorium, used exclusively for the exhibition of motion pictures, and having no stage, dressing rooms, nor scenery, shall not be required to have a fire pump, unless required to fill the standpipe supply tank as prescribed in rules of the board of standards and appeals. In addition to the requirements contained in this section the standpipe shall also conform to the requirements contained in section 581 of this chapter.

4. Miscellaneous. There shall also be kept in readiness for immediate use on the stage, at least 4 casks full of water, and 2 buckets to each cask. Such casks and buckets shall be painted red. There shall also be provided hand pumps or other portable fire extinguishing apparatus and at least 4 axes and 2 25-foot hooks, 2 15-foot hooks and 2 10-foot hooks on each tier or floor of the stage.

Exemptions—Buildings, used exclusively for the exhibition of moving pictures, not more than one story in height and not exceeding 15,000 square feet in area, having access to two streets, with no other business on premises, excepting stores occupying not more than 10 per cent. of the area, and having no stage, dressing rooms, nor scenery, shall not be required to provide a gravity tank supply for the standpipe fire lines, nor a sprinkler system, when there is a four-inch direct connected standpipe equipment to a city water main fed two ways, or one connection on each of two street fronts, each main so fed that the shutting off of the supply of one main will not interfere with the supply of the other main, and having sufficient pressure to maintain a minimum of 30 pounds per square inch static pressure at the highest outlet, provided evidence is submitted establishing the fact that the water main pressure is as required. The standpipe equipment shall be provided with regulation fire department 3-inch siamese connection.

Buildings as described in this exemption will be required to have standpipes so placed that not more than 100 feet of hose shall be required to reach all parts of the auditorium.

A stadium construction may be deemed a one-story building, on condition the seats are so arranged that they shall not at the floor level of the highest row be more than 15 feet above the lowest floor level of the auditorium, provided, however, the gradient of the auditorium floor does not exceed one foot in 12 feet.

Sec. 2. Subdivision 1 of section 526 of article 25 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances is hereby amended to read as follows:

§526. Lights.

1. Adequacy. Every portion of the building devoted to the uses or accommodations of the public, also all means of egress leading to the streets and including the open courts and corridors, shall be well and properly lighted during every performance, and the same shall remain lighted until the entire audience has left the premises. When interior gas lights are not lighted by electricity, other suitable appliances, approved by the superintendent of buildings, shall be provided.

Sec. 3. Subdivision 1 of section 527 of article 25 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances is hereby amended to read as follows:

§527. Means of egress.

1. Exits to streets. Every theatre accommodating 300 persons shall have at least two exits; when accommodating 500 persons, at least three exits shall be provided; these exits not referring to nor including the exits to the open court at the side of the theatre. Every such building shall have one or more fronts on the streets, and in such fronts there shall be suitable means of entrance and exit for the audience, aggregating not less than 25 feet in width. The entrance of the main front of the building shall be not more than one foot above the sidewalk level unless approved by the superintendent of buildings. Each exit shall be at least five feet in width in the clear and provided with doors of iron or wood; if of wood, the doors shall be constructed as hereinbefore prescribed in this chapter. All of said doors shall open outwardly, and shall be fastened with panic bolts or other approved devices which will open when one or more persons press against inner side of said door.

Sec. 4. Section 530 of article 25 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances relating to "protective curtain," is hereby amended by adding the following lines at the end thereof:

- (b) Satisfactory proof must be submitted and filed with application that curtain is capable of withstanding a temperature of not less than 1,700 degrees F. for a period of 45 minutes.

AMENDMENT

Sec. 5. Section 581 of article 28 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances is hereby amended to read as follows:

§581. Standpipes.

1. Standpipes, constructed and installed as hereinafter required and as prescribed in rules of the board of standards and appeals shall be provided:

a. Unchanged.

b. Unchanged.

c. In every building exceeding 10,000 square feet in area, except in buildings specifically exempted in article 25 of this chapter and buildings of not more than one story in height not exceeding 15,000 square feet in area and occupied solely as places of religious worship; and except in fireproof buildings not over four stories or 45 feet in height when such buildings are equipped with an approved two-source supply automatic sprinkler system, and are not of an occupancy deemed unusually hazardous by the fire commissioner.

d. In amusement or exhibition parks or enclosures when deemed necessary by the fire commissioner.

e. In oil storage plants, ship-yards, and other industrial plants of an area in excess of 10,000 square feet.

2. Unchanged.

3. Number and Location. The number of standpipes in any building shall be such that all parts of each story are within the reach of at least one stream supplied by hose not exceeding 100 feet in length.

When a building requiring standpipes faces on more than one street, at least one standpipe shall be installed for each street front, provided that for intersecting street fronts, one standpipe shall be sufficient for each intersection, when all portions of each area may be reached by a stream from 100 feet of hose. So far as practicable, standpipes shall be placed within stair enclosures, otherwise they shall be as near the stair as possible. All standpipes shall extend from the lower story to and above the roof.

In buildings not exceeding 40 feet in height and not over 20,000 square feet in area gravity tank may be omitted provided the standpipe riser is supplied by not less than 4-inch connection to street main having not less than 45-pound pressure.

4. Construction. All standpipes hereinafter installed shall be constructed as prescribed by the rules of the board of standards and appeals and shall be provided with such outlets and equipped with such appliances as required by said rules. All standpipes shall extend to the street and shall be provided with approved siamese connections. In buildings not exceeding 45 feet in height, siamese connections will not be required. WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.

Rule 1.—Except as herein provided, in all factory buildings five stories or less in height, erected prior to October 1, 1913, in which there are more than twenty-five persons employed above the second story, all interior stairways, serving as required means of exit, and the landings, platforms and passageways connected therewith, shall be enclosed on all sides by partitions of fire-resisting material extending continuously from the lowest point of the stairway in accordance with the following schedule:

Number of stories	Contents combustible, no sprinkler	Contents non-combustible, no sprinkler	Contents combustible, and sprinkler	Contents non-combustible, and sprinkler
Three	Stairways Enclosed
Four	Stairways Enclosed	Stairways Enclosed
Five	Stairways Enclosed	Stairway Enclosed	Stairways Enclosed

The term "contents" as used above means articles, goods, wares and merchandise, packed, stored, manufactured or in the process of manufacture.

The term "combustible" as used above means articles, goods, wares or merchandise which will burn or support combustion.

The term "sprinkler" as used above means an adequate automatic sprinkler equipment installed and maintained in good working order on each floor.

The term "story" as used above means that part of a building between any floor and the floor or roof next above;—the first story is that part of a building which is more than 50 per cent above the floor below and the floor next above the curb or average grade level.

Where the stairway extends to the top floor of the building, such partitions shall extend to the under side of the roof boarding that portion of the under side of the roof beams within the stair enclosure shall be covered with fire resisting material, except in buildings with roofs of non-combustible material, in which case the partitions may stop at the under side of the roof.

Where the stairway is required to extend to the roof, the enclosure shall be so built as to form a bulkhead. The enclosure shall be ventilated by a skylight in the roof with louvres or ventilators, or exterior windows with ventilating sections at the top floor.

All openings in such partitions shall be provided with approved self-closing fire doors, except where such openings are in the exterior wall of the building.

The bottom of the enclosure shall be of fireproof material at least four inches thick unless the partition extends to the cellar bottom.

A horizontal exit, as defined in section 267 of the Labor Law, will be accepted as a compliance with this rule when both sides of the fire wall or walls are occupied on any factory floor by the same occupant.

Rule 2.—Where there are occupancies on any story or part of a story involving the storage or use below the top story of the following materials and exceeding the amount specified, and there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above such occupancy.

The interior stairway serving as required means of egress shall be enclosed on that story with fire resisting material from floor to under side of floor above, including any exposed stair soffits, landings and passageways; openings shall be provided with approved self-closing fire doors.

When more than two stories are to be segregated, as above, the entire stairway shall be enclosed in fire-resisting material where there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above the first story.

Rule 3.—Required Exits and Enclosures of Stairways in Two-story Factory Buildings.

1. Required Exits.—In every two-story factory building erected prior to October 1, 1913, in which more than five persons are employed at manufacturing, there shall be provided from each story at least two means of exit or escape from fire remote from each other, one of which from every floor above or below grade shall lead to or open on an interior stairway which shall be enclosed, as hereinafter provided, or on an exterior enclosed stairway. The other may lead to such a stairway, or to a horizontal or grade exit, or to an exterior screened stairway, or to a fire escape conforming to section 273, Labor Law. Except that exit door shall be a fire door, with substantial steps to the sills, properly secured. When sill is more than 8 inches above the floor level, and where there is no safe egress from the roof, a gooseneck ladder shall be provided from top balcony to the roof.

Unobstructed egress from the foot of the fire escape or exterior screened stairway shall be as required by section 273, Labor Law, or to open adjoining yard with egress to the street. Section 1. Section 524 of article 25 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances is hereby amended to read as follows:

§524. Fire-extinguishing appliances.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, in every building described in section 520 of this article and not now equipped with a standpipe fire extinguishing equipment approved by the fire commissioner, there shall be provided:

A separate and distinct system of automatic sprinklers, with fusible struts, approved by the fire commissioner as conforming to the provisions of the rules of the board of standards and appeals governing sprinkler installations, supplied with water from a tank located on the roof over the stage and not connected in any manner with standpipes, shall be placed on the ceiling or roof over the stage at such intervals as will protect every square foot of stage surface when sprinklers are in operation, and an additional line of sprinkler heads on the stage side of the proscenium opening. Automatic sprinklers shall also be placed, wherever practicable, in the dressing rooms, under the stage and in the carpenter shop, paint rooms, store-rooms and property rooms.

Standpipes, 4 inches in diameter, with hose attachments, shall be provided on every floor and gallery as follows, namely: One on each side of the auditorium in each tier, one in each mezzanine, one on each side of the stage in each tier, one in each tier of dressing rooms, and at least one in the property room and one in the carpenter's shop. All such standpipes shall be kept clear from obstructions. Said standpipes shall be separate and distinct receiving their supply of water direct from a separate gravity tank of 3,500 gallons capacity located above the roof and from a fire pump and shall be fitted with regulation couplings of the fire department, and shall be kept constantly filled with water by means of an automatic fire pump of sufficient capacity as prescribed in the rules of the board of standards and appeals. Said pump shall be supplied from the street main and be ready for immediate use at all times during any performance in said building, except that any theatre having not more than one balcony, with no occupancy above the auditorium, used exclusively for the exhibition of motion pictures, and having no stage, dressing rooms, nor scenery, shall not be required to have a fire pump, unless required to fill the standpipe supply tank as prescribed in rules of the board of standards and appeals. In addition to the requirements contained in this section the standpipe shall also conform to the requirements contained in section 581 of this chapter.

4. Miscellaneous. There shall also be kept in readiness for immediate use on the stage, at least 4 casks full of water, and 2 buckets to each cask. Such casks and buckets shall be painted red. on premises, excepting stores occupying not more than 10 per cent. of the area, and having no stage, dressing rooms, nor scenery, shall not be required to provide a gravity tank supply for the standpipe fire lines, nor a sprinkler system, when there is a four-inch direct connected standpipe equipment to a city water main fed two ways, or one connection on each of two street fronts, each main so fed that the shutting off of the supply of one main will not interfere with the supply of the other main, and having sufficient pressure to maintain a minimum of 30 pounds per square inch static pressure at the highest outlet, provided evidence is submitted establishing the fact that the water main pressure is as required. The standpipe equipment shall be provided with regulation fire department 3-inch siamese connection.

Buildings as described in this exemption will be required to have standpipes so placed that not more than 100 feet of hose shall be required to reach all parts of the auditorium.

A stadium construction may be deemed a one-story building, on condition the seats are so arranged that they shall not at the floor level of the highest row be more than 15 feet above the lowest floor level of the auditorium, provided, however, the gradient of the auditorium floor does not exceed one foot in 12 feet.

Sec. 2. Subdivision 1 of section 526 of article 25 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances is hereby amended to read as follows:

§526. Lights.

Every portion of the building devoted to the uses or accommodations of the public, also all means of egress leading to the streets and including the open courts and corridors, shall be well and properly lighted during every performance, and the same shall remain lighted until the entire audience has left the premises. When interior gas lights are not lighted by electricity, other suitable appliances, approved by the superintendent of buildings, shall be provided.

Sec. 3. Subdivision 1 of section 527 of article 25 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances is hereby amended to read as follows:

§527. Means of egress.

1. Exits to streets. Every theatre accommodating 300 persons shall have at least two exits; when accommodating 500 persons, at least three exits shall be provided; these exits not referring to nor including the exits to the open court at the side of the theatre. Every such building shall have one or more fronts on the streets, and in such fronts there shall be suitable means of entrance and exit for the audience, aggregating not less than 25 feet in width. The entrance of the main front of the building shall be not more than one foot above the sidewalk level unless approved by the superintendent of buildings. Each exit shall be at least five feet in width in the clear and provided with doors of iron or wood; if of wood, the doors shall be constructed as hereinbefore prescribed in this chapter. All of said doors shall open outwardly, and shall be fastened with panic bolts or other approved devices which will open when one or more persons press against inner side of said door.

Sec. 4. Section 530 of article 25 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances relating to "protective curtain," is hereby amended by adding the following lines at the end thereof:

(b) Satisfactory proof must be submitted and filed with application that curtain is capable of withstanding a temperature of not less than 1,700 degrees F. for a period of 45 minutes.

AMENDMENT

Sec. 5. Section 581 of article 28 of chapter 5 of the Code of Ordinances is hereby amended to read as follows:

§581. Standpipes.

1. Standpipes, constructed and installed as hereinafter required and as prescribed in rules of the board of standards and appeals shall be provided:

a. Unchanged.

b. Unchanged.

c. In every building exceeding 10,000 square feet in area, except in buildings specifically exempted in article 25 of this chapter and buildings of not more than one story in height not exceeding 15,000 square feet in area and occupied solely as places of religious worship; and except in fireproof buildings not over four stories or 45 feet in height when such buildings are equipped with an approved two-source supply automatic sprinkler system, and are not of an occupancy deemed unusually hazardous by the fire commissioner.

d. In amusement or exhibition parks or enclosures when deemed necessary by the fire commissioner.

e. In oil storage plants, ship-yards, and other industrial plants of an area in excess of 10,000 square feet.

Unchanged.

Number and Location. The number of standpipes in any building shall be such that all parts of each story are within the reach of at least one stream supplied by hose not exceeding 100 feet in length.

When a building requiring standpipes faces on more than one street, at least one standpipe shall be installed for each street front, provided that for intersecting street fronts, one standpipe shall be sufficient for each intersection, when all portions of each area may be reached by a stream from 100 feet of hose. So far as practicable, standpipes shall be placed within stair enclosures, otherwise they shall be as near the stair as possible. All standpipes shall extend from the lower story to and above the roof.

In buildings not exceeding 40 feet in height and not over 20,000 square feet in area gravity tank may be omitted provided the standpipe riser is supplied by not less than 4-inch connection to street main having not less than 45-pound pressure.

4. Construction. All standpipes hereinafter installed shall be constructed as prescribed by the rules of the board of standards and appeals and shall be provided with such outlets and equipped with such appliances as required by said rules. RULES ADOPTED

AMENDMENTS TO THE FIRE ESCAPE RULES—RULES RELATING TO SUBSTANDARD EXITS.

(Cal. No. 414-24-SR)

Rule 3 of Fire Escape Rules of Board of Standards and Appeals, adopted July 2, 1918, Cal. No. 1218-18-S; Amended Dec. 12, 1918, Cal. No. 1708-18-S; Amended May 9, 1924; Cal. No. 414-24-SR.

EXISTING FIRE ESCAPES OF FACTORIES.

3. When in addition to the required exits from any factory or factory building, there exist other means of egress which are not entirely in accordance with the requirements of the Labor Law and the Rules of the Board of Standards and Appeals, such means of egress may be retained under the following conditions.

(a) Fire Escapes.—All substandard fire escapes on factory buildings shall be removed or reconstructed in accordance with Section 274 of the Labor Law, except that in lieu of a counterbalanced stair a drop ladder in guides from the lowest balcony to ground may be provided. Substandard fire escapes shall not be considered as a basis for increased occupancy of the building. When such substandard fire escapes are located in any court or on the side or rear of a building, proper egress to a point of safety shall be provided, either to open adjoining yards, or the lowest balcony may be connected to an adjoining fire escape, exterior stairway, or to roof of adjoining extension, or other egress satisfactory to the Fire Commissioner. All such fire escapes shall be maintained structurally safe and properly painted.

(b) Interior Stairways.—All interior stairways not conforming to the requirements of the Labor Law or rules of the Board of Standards and Appeals may be retained, provided that egress to same is maintained unobstructed, halls are properly lighted, and all landings, passageways, etc., are maintained free and unobstructed. An easily operated panic bolt or other similar device may be installed at street exit door.

(c) Exterior Screened Stairways.—Exterior screened stairways not serving as a required means of egress shall be either removed or maintained structurally safe and properly painted, exits thereto and all platforms and passageways thereof shall be maintained unobstructed, and egress from termination shall be as provided for substandard fire escapes in subdivision a.

(d) Horizontal Bridges.—Horizontal bridges and party wall balconies between buildings shall be removed or maintained structurally safe and properly painted, and access thereto and all passageways thereof shall be maintained unobstructed.

(e) No sign of any character shall be placed at openings leading to these substandard exits.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.

Rule 1.—Except as herein provided, in all factory buildings five stories or less in height, erected prior to October 1, 1913, in which there are more than twenty-five persons employed above the second story, all interior stairways, serving as required means of exit, and the landings, platforms and passageways connected therewith, shall be enclosed on all sides by partitions of fire-resisting material extending continuously from the lowest point of the stairway in accordance with the following schedule:

Number of stories	Contents combustible, no sprinkler	Contents non-combustible, no sprinkler	Contents combustible, and sprinkler	Contents non-combustible, and sprinkler
One	Stairways Enclosed
Two	Stairways Enclosed	Stairways Enclosed
Three	Stairways Enclosed	Stairway Enclosed	Stairways Enclosed

The term "contents" as used above means articles, goods, wares and merchandise, packed, stored, manufactured or in the process of manufacture.

The term "combustible" as used above means articles, goods, wares or merchandise which will burn or support combustion.

The term "sprinkler" as used above means an adequate automatic sprinkler equipment installed and maintained in good working order on each floor.

The term "story" as used above means that part of a building between any floor and the floor or roof next above;—the first story is that part of a building which is more than 50 per cent above the floor below and the floor next above the curb or average grade level.

Where the stairway extends to the top floor of the building, such partitions shall extend to the under side of the roof boarding that portion of the under side of the roof beams within the stair enclosure shall be covered with fire resisting material, except in buildings with roofs of non-combustible material, in which case the partitions shall stop at the under side of the roof.

Where the stairway is required to extend to the roof, the enclosure shall be so built as to form a bulkhead. The enclosure shall be ventilated by a skylight in the roof with louvres or ventilators, or exterior windows with ventilating sections at the top floor.

All openings in such partitions shall be provided with approved self-closing fire doors, except where such openings are in the exterior wall of the building.

The bottom of the enclosure shall be of fireproof material at least four inches thick unless the partition extends to the cellar bottom.

A horizontal exit, as defined in section 267 of the Labor Law, will be accepted as a compliance with this rule when both sides of the fire wall or walls are occupied by any factory floor by the same occupant.

Rule 2.—Where there are occupancies on any story or part of a story involving the storage or use below the top story of the following materials and exceeding the amount specified, and there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above such occupancy.

The interior stairway serving as required means of egress shall be enclosed on that story with fire resisting material from floor to under side of floor above, including any exposed stair soffits, landings and passageways; openings shall be provided with approved self-closing fire doors.

The Board shall rule upon new occupancies as they arise and pass upon points under dispute.

When more than two stories are to be segregated, as above, the entire stairway shall be enclosed in fire-resisting material where there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above the first story.

Rule 3.—Required Exits and Enclosures of Stairways in Two-story Factory Buildings.

1. Required Exits.—In every two-story factory building erected prior to October 1, 1913, in which more than five persons are employed at manufacturing, there shall be provided from each story at least two means of exit or escape from fire remote from each other, one of which from every floor above or below grade shall lead to or open on an interior stairway which shall be enclosed, as hereinafter provided, or on an exterior enclosed stairway. The other may lead to such a stairway, or to a horizontal or grade exit, or to an exterior screened stairway, or to a fire escape conforming to section 273, Labor Law. Except that exit door shall be a fire door, with substantial steps to the sills, properly secured. When sill is more than 8 inches above the floor level, and where there is no safe egress from the roof, a gooseneck ladder shall be provided from top balcony to the roof.

Unobstructed egress from the foot of the fire escape or exterior screened stairway shall be as required by section 273, Labor Law, or to open adjoining yard with egress to the street. No point on any floor of such building shall be more than one hundred and fifty (150) feet distant from such an exit.

Rule 4.—Enclosure of Stairways.—In two-story buildings where there are occupancies on any story or part of a story involving the storage or use below the top story of any of the materials exceeding the amounts specified in Rule 2 and there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above such occupancy, all interior stairways serving as required means of exit shall be enclosed from the lowest point of such stairway to the ceiling of the first floor by partitions of fire-resisting material, unless the building is provided with a wet sprinkler system, in which case such enclosure of stairways shall not be required. Such enclosures shall lead directly to a door opening outwardly to a street or road, or an open area affording unobstructed passage to a street or road. All openings in such enclosure shall be provided with fire doors equipped with self-closing devices.

All reference herein to "Enclosure of Stairways" shall be considered as applying only to required stairways.

Rule 5.—Storage of Combustible Material About Factory Stairways.

In all factory buildings no articles or wares of any nature shall be kept or stored inside the limits of any stairway enclosure or unenclosed stairway, or on the landings, platforms or passageways connected therewith.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.

(410-24-SR)

Supplementary to Labor Law, § 271; originally adopted by the Industrial Commission August 28, 1913, and effective October 1, 1923; amended November 18, 1915; revised and readopted February 10, 1916, effective March 1, 1916; revised and adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals July 29, 1924.

Rule 1.—Except as herein provided, in all factory buildings five stories or less in height, erected prior to October 1, 1913, in which there are more than twenty-five persons employed above the second story, all interior stairways, serving as required means of exit, and the landings, platforms and passageways connected therewith, shall be enclosed on all sides by partitions of fire-resisting material extending continuously from the lowest point of the stairway in accordance with the following schedule:

Number of stories	Contents combustible, no sprinkler	Contents non-combustible, no sprinkler	Contents combustible, and sprinkler	Contents non-combustible and sprinkler
Three	Stairways Enclosed
Four	Stairways Enclosed	Stairways Enclosed
Five	Stairways Enclosed	Stairway Enclosed	Stairways Enclosed

The term "contents" as used above means articles, goods, wares and merchandise, packed, stored, manufactured or in the process of manufacture.

The term "combustible" as used above means articles, goods, wares or merchandise which will burn or support combustion.

The term "sprinkler" as used above means an adequate automatic sprinkler equipment installed and maintained in good working order on each floor.

The term "story" as used above means that part of a building between any floor and the floor or roof next above;—the first story is that part of a building which is more than 50 per cent above the floor below and the floor next above the curb or average grade level.

Where the stairway extends to the top floor of the building, such partitions shall extend to the under side of the roof boarding that portion of the under side of the roof beams within the stair enclosure shall be covered with fire resisting material, except in buildings with roofs of non-combustible material, in which case the partitions may stop at the under side of the roof.

Where the stairway is required to extend to the roof, the enclosure shall be so built as to form a bulkhead. The enclosure shall be ventilated by a skylight in the roof with louvres or ventilators, or exterior windows with ventilating sections at the top floor.

All openings in such partitions shall be provided with approved self-closing fire doors, except where such openings are in the exterior wall of the building.

The bottom of the enclosure shall be of fireproof material at least four inches thick unless the partition extends to the cellar bottom.

A horizontal exit, as defined in section 267 of the Labor Law, will be accepted as a compliance with this rule when both sides of the fire wall or walls are occupied on any factory floor by the same occupant.

Rule 2.—Where there are occupancies on any story or part of a story involving the storage or use below the top story of the following materials and exceeding the amount specified, and there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above such occupancy.

The interior stairway serving as required means of egress shall be enclosed on that story with fire resisting material from floor to under side of floor above, including any exposed stair soffits, landings and passageways; openings shall be provided with approved self-closing fire doors.

Nitrocellulose in any shape or form, 10 lbs.

Volatile inflammable oils, 1 gal.

Volatile inflammable mixtures, 5 gals.

Combustible mixtures, 10 gals.

Paints, varnishes and lacquers, 10 gals.

The Board shall rule upon new occupancies as they arise and pass upon points under dispute.

When more than two stories are to be segregated, as above, the entire stairway shall be enclosed in fire-resisting material where there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above the first story.

Rule 3.—Required Exits and Enclosures of Stairways in Two-story Factory Buildings.

1. Required Exits.—In every two-story factory building erected prior to October 1, 1913, in which more than five persons are employed at manufacturing, there shall be provided from each story at least two means of exit or escape from fire remote from each other, one of which from every floor above or below grade shall lead to or open on an interior stairway which shall be enclosed, as hereinafter provided, or on an exterior enclosed stairway. The other may lead to such a stairway, or to a horizontal or grade exit, or to an exterior screened stairway, or to a fire escape conforming to section 273, Labor Law. Except that exit door shall be a fire door, with substantial steps to the sills, properly secured. When sill is more than 8 inches above the floor level, and where there is no safe egress from the roof, a gooseneck ladder shall be provided from top balcony to the roof.

Unobstructed egress from the foot of the fire escape or exterior screened stairway shall be as required by section 273, Labor Law, or to open adjoining yard with egress to the street. No point on any floor of such building shall be more than one hundred and fifty (150) feet distant from such an exit.

Rule 4.—Enclosure of Stairways.—In two-story buildings where there are occupancies on any story or part of a story involving the storage or use below the top story of any of the materials exceeding the amounts specified in Rule 2 and there are more than 5 persons employed at manufacturing above such occupancy, all interior stairways serving as required means of exit shall be enclosed from the lowest point of such stairway to the ceiling of the first floor by partitions of fire-resisting material, unless the building is provided with a wet sprinkler system, in which case such enclosure of stairways shall not be required. Such enclosures shall lead directly to a door opening outwardly to a street or road, or an open area affording unobstructed passage to a street or road. All openings in such enclosure shall be provided with fire doors equipped with self-closing devices.

All reference herein to "Enclosure of Stairways" shall be considered as applying only to required stairways.

Rule 5.—Storage of Combustible Material About Factory Stairways.

In all factory buildings no articles or wares of any nature shall be kept or stored inside the limits of any stairway enclosure or unenclosed stairway, or on the landings, platforms or passageways connected therewith.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number, and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

RULE

COMMUNITY LAUNDRIES IN BUSINESS DISTRICTS

Amended Resolution Adopted by the Board of Appeals, March 16, 1920, Under Cal. No. 549-17-BZ.

WHEREAS, the board of appeals, at its regular meeting, December 16, 1919, unanimously rescinded an opinion incidentally expressed and incorporated in a resolution adopted by the board on May 28, 1917, in acting on Cal. No. 549-17-BZ. This opinion was that a laundry is not a prohibited use in a business district under the building zone resolution. The board unanimously rescinded this expression of opinion, inasmuch as a laundry is a factory within the meaning of the labor law and must be so construed under the building zone resolution in the absence of any definition therein to the contrary.

Resolved, that this shall not be construed to include within the prohibited uses specified under Section 4 of the building zone resolution a community or neighborhood laundry located in the basement or ground floor of a building within a business district and containing not more than eight (8) rotary washing machines with inside cylinders not more than 30 in. in diameter by 30 in. in length over all nor more than two 20 in. extractors, the 20 in. measurement being the diameter of the inside basket, which machines and extractors shall be operated solely by electric power and do not require the installation of steam boiler or plant.

The hydrated lime shall conform with the standard specifications for this material which have been adopted by the American Society for Testing Materials.

The maximum amount of hydrated lime which may be used shall conform with the following table, all weights given being the amount of lime which may be incorporated for each ninety-five pound bag of Portland cement.

1-1½-3 Mix, 4 pounds of hydrated lime per bag of cement.

1-2-4 Mix, 5 pounds of hydrated lime per bag of cement.

1-2½-5 Mix, 6 pounds of hydrated lime per bag of cement.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.

WHEREAS, the use district maps accompanying the building zone resolution show that Nostrand avenue and Empire boulevard are business districts and Sullivan street is a residence district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the superintendent of buildings, rendered September 8, 1924, in acting on Application No. 12626-24, reads:

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.

Cal. No. 787-24-BZ.

November 11, 1924.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE:

A committee of the board, consisting of Chairman Walsh, Fire Chief Kenlon, Messrs. Dowd, Connell and Kennedy, visited these premises on November 10, 1924. The application is brought under Section 20 and seeks a variation of the building zone resolution, to permit the erection of a business building in a residence use district at the northeast corner formed by the intersection of Ocean and Woodruff avenues.

The street numbers designating the plot in the application would affect the property on Ocean avenue from Parkside avenue to Woodruff avenue, whereas, from the plans on file it relates to and embraces only No. 357 Ocean avenue, a plot of ground approximately 61 ft. by 74 ft. now occupied by a 2½ story framed dwelling. As described on the plot plan, filed with this case, there is in existence a one story brick building, 44 ft. frontage on Ocean avenue to the north, occupied as a restaurant and candy store; to the rear on Woodruff avenue, immediately adjoining this property, there is a frame structure finished in stucco, one story in height, occupied as a fruit and vegetable store and immediately adjoining, also on Woodruff avenue, a one story frame building, 12 ft. deep, operated as a tailor shop.

Ocean avenue from Parkside avenue all the way south is developed with attractive, modern, high class apartment dwellings, the side street and entire neighborhood likewise is highly developed.

The only contributing influence that could be offered in support of this application for the privilege of business use on the corner, are the abutting stores as above described, which though by the very nature of their construction and limited capacity and investment production, are established as only temporary uses, more commonly known and understood as "taxpayers."

The committee is of the opinion that to designate this corner to non-conforming uses by the authority of modification of the building zone resolution, would be destructive, unwarranted and not supported by any substantial, sound or logical reason, and therefore recommend the denial of this application.

(Signed)
WILLIAM E. WALSH,
JOHN KENLON,
J. SANSFIELD KENNEDY,
HENRY L. CONNELL.

Resolved, that the decision of the superintendent of buildings be and it hereby is affirmed and the application be and it hereby is denied.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.

THE RESOLUTION:

(1147-24-A)

"3. Extension to the siamese connections from the cross-connection are four inches in diameter instead of six.

"An amendment was filed and disapproved for permission to accept the 4 in. headers to the siamese connections. The report further indicates that a new gravity tank had been erected of 34,000 gallon capacity with 3,500 gallon reserve for the standpipe system, to which the sprinkler system has been connected with galvanized pipe through the bottom of the tank to the level of the standpipe reserve.

siamese connections, one on each street, and a 750 gallon pump in the cellar, and that the extensions are from the standpipe loop in the cellar to the siamese connections and are about 65 ft. long, and that to make a change would involve a hardship, and that the loss of pressure would not exceed 7 pounds under extreme conditions; that the 33,000 gallon tank supplies 12,000 gallons for house service, 3,500 gallons for standpipe and the remainder is used as an addition to the sprinkler system; that the building was completed in 1921 and that they have attempted to comply with all orders of the fire department and the bureau of buildings.

Resolved, that the decision of the fire commissioner, as it relates to that part of Item 3 relative to the 4 in. headers to the siamese connections being 4 in. in diameter instead of 6, be and it hereby is affirmed, and the appeal be and it hereby is denied; and that that part of fire commissioner's decision as to tank is modified, and the appeal be and it hereby is granted on condition that not less than a 3,500 gallon reserve for standpipe shall be maintained at all times in bottom of Tank "B", as indicated on plans filed in this appeal.

The plot embraced in this application runs north on Webster Avenue 277.68 feet, from the intersection of Mosholu Parkway North, and is 120 ft. deep on a line perpendicular to Webster Avenue, with a street frontage on Mosholu Parkway of 130.52 ft. This plot is involved in two use districts, namely, business and residence.

Directly opposite to the south is the Mosholu Parkway; directly to the west on Mosholu Parkway, abutting this property, is a modern five-story and basement apartment house; to the rear on Decatur Avenue are two story frame dwellings; to the north on the westerly side of Webster Avenue, there are two-story frame dwellings; vacant property and two and three-story frame dwellings intervene at least to 203rd Street. Directly opposite on the east side of Webster Avenue there now exists a two-story garage, four-story brick dwellings and an extensive one-story garage, wholly and entirely within the unrestricted district, as designated on the use district maps.

MINUTES

The building proposed in this application is to be used as a public garage, entirely on Webster Avenue, with stores and business use on the Mosholu Parkway frontage, setting aside an area in the proposed structure, irregular in shape, 25 ft. on the westerly line, 130 ft. on the southerly line and 77 ft. frontage on the easterly or Webster Avenue line.

As to basis of appeal under Section 7-e, this cannot be held to have been established for the reason that there are no non-conforming uses on the westerly side of Webster Avenue within the area affected, the garages opposite being in an unrestricted district and therefore not applicable under this provision of exception. Moreover, Section 7-e does not embrace or include invasion of a residence district.

As to Section 20, namely, hardship, which is also included as a basis of appeal in this application for consideration by the Board, the Committee feels the owner will suffer no deprivation of reasonable use and return from his property—but, on the contrary, as characterized by some members of the Committee, this premises is, by its location opposite the park, naturally an apartment house site.

The Committee is of the opinion that this application for a public garage should be denied by the Board.

RULES

COMMUNITY LAUNDRIES IN BUSINESS DISTRICTS

Amended Resolution Adopted by the Board of Appeals, March 16, 1920, Under Cal. No. 549-17-BZ.

WHEREAS, the board of appeals, at its regular meeting, December 16, 1919, unanimously rescinded an opinion incidentally expressed and incorporated in a resolution adopted by the board on May 28, 1917, in acting on Cal. No. 549-17-BZ. This opinion was that a laundry is not a prohibited use in a business district under the building zone resolution. The board unanimously rescinded this expression of opinion, inasmuch as a laundry is a factory within the meaning of the labor law and must be so construed under the building zone resolution in the absence of any definition therein to the contrary.

Resolved, that this shall not be construed to include within the prohibited uses specified under Section 4 of the building zone resolution a community or neighborhood laundry located in the basement or ground floor of a building within a business district and containing not more than eight (8) rotary washing machines with inside cylinders not more than 30 in. in diameter by 30 in. in length over all nor more than two 20 in. extractors, the 20 in. measurement being the diameter of the inside basket, which machines and extractors shall be operated solely by electric power and do not require the installation of steam boiler or plant.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.

(1122-24-S)

WHEREAS, Maurice M. Casey, owner, filed, September 12, 1924, a petition, with the board of standards and appeals, for a variation from the requirements of the labor law as cited in a decision of the superintendent of buildings, affecting premises 442 West 49th street, Manhattan; and

Protection of Valves:

5. The gas shut-off control shall be protected by a suitable, approved metal box, placed on the exterior of the building, which shall be connected, through a rigid metal conduit, by a cable, with the valve body placed on the gas intake where the gas pipe enters the building, and as near as practicable to the inside face of the wall, before reaching the meters. The lock for securing box on outside wall of building shall be operative only by a Fire Department inner box key by members of the Fire Department.

6. All valve bodies shall be made of brass or bronze. If a spring is used to actuate a valve in conjunction with the fusible link, it shall be of the best quality phosphor bronze.

7. The internal mechanism which acts to shut off the gas shall be securely connected with the external mechanism by a direct mechanical connection, made gas tight, where it passes through the valve body, by a stuffing box filled with soft, well-lubricated packing, in accordance with recognized standard practice.

Installation:

8. The valve shall be so installed as to be conspicuously displayed and readily inspected and reset by authorized persons.

Valves shall be located so that condensation will not accumulate in the valves; and shall be installed so that gas will flow through the valve in direction indicated on it.

9. Valves shall be secured in piping by threaded connections or companion flanges. Combustible packing or sheet lead shall not be used between flanges.

10. The gas main at both ends of the valve must be rigid and secure to withstand the pull from the control handle. Additional non-combustible brackets or hangers must be provided, if necessary, to secure and maintain rigid installation.

11. The valve shall be enclosed in a substantial, perforated metal case, conspicuously exposed, painted red, protected by standard lock acceptable to the Fire Prevention Bureau, and shall indicate the name, telephone number and address of installer, to insure prompt service to property owner.

12. Casing of the valve on gas intake shall be kept locked to protect valve from interference and make it accessible only to authorized persons. Perforations, to allow circulation of air around fusible link, shall be provided and so arranged as to prevent tampering with valve when casing is locked.

Control Box:

13. The control handle for the manual closing of the valve shall be in a locked metal control box having a cast iron cover conspicuously labeled with raised letters, painted red.

14. On the outside of the cover or the inside of the control box, in raised or stamped letters, or on a securely fastened metal plate, shall be displayed concise operating directions, together with the name, initials or registered trademark of the manufacturer.

15. The control box must be placed as nearly vertically above the point where the gas main enters the premises as is practicable, when this does not involve excessive length of cable and extra turns, and at a height above the sidewalk or grade, of not less than two (2) feet and not more than five (5) feet. Without special permission, the control box shall not be placed or mounted on basement window frames, or directly above basement windows or other openings, nor shall it be located behind doors or other obstructions which would prevent the Fire Department from having easy access to it.

16. Control boxes must be securely and permanently fastened. Whenever possible, they shall be fastened to a non-combustible wall, pillar or column. They shall be secured by not less than two 3/16 inch bolts or the equivalent. Unless the building is so constructed that the control box must unavoidably be secured to a wooden part, the use of wood screws is not permitted for supporting countersunk control boxes; lag bolts shall be used. When the walls are of masonry or concrete, through bolts, expansion bolts or toggle bolts shall be used. All fastenings must be arranged so that they cannot be loosened except from inside opening of the control box.

17. Control boxes may be set or recessed into the wall to a depth not greater than the depth of the box so that cover is flush with the face of the wall. Control boxes may be mounted directly on the surface of the wall.

18. The control box shall be located on the outside of the building wall, facing the street, whenever possible. When the control box is installed on an alley face of a building, or in a similar place where the control box is subject to injury from passing vehicles, etc., the control box must be thoroughly protected. This may be done by having the control box recessed, marked by waterproof red paint ring and waterproof white paint ring on the wall, or, when such protection is not available, protected by heavy iron channels or angles secured to the wall by through bolts, expansion bolts, or toggle bolts.

Control Handles:

19. Control handles shall be of standard construction arranged to fit the control boxes so that they may be locked without difficulty, and cable connections shall be securely made in an approved manner, according to the design of the handle.

RULES

Cable:

20. The connection between the valve and control handle shall be as direct as practicable, and shall consist of a single piece of stranded phosphor bronze cable not less than 3/32 inch in diameter. No splices in the cable shall be permitted.

21. It is essential that cable connections to valve and handle be securely made according to the design in each case. The cable may be slightly annealed for making ends, and when cutting the cable, it should be taped and cut through the tape, or a small amount of solder applied where it is to be cut, so as to prevent frayed end.

Conduit:

22. The control cable for the shut-off valve shall be run in galvanized wrought iron or steel pipe or other standard approved conduit not less than 1/2 inch in pipe size. The pipe or conduit line must be water-tight and continuous from the casing enclosing the operating mechanism of the valve to the control box on outside of building. The cable shall not be exposed at any point in its length.

23. All ends of pipe or conduit, not only at valve and control box terminals, but in the run of the piping, shall be carefully reamed so as to remove burrs and fins caused by cutting-off tools, which would interfere with the movement of the cable in the run, or cut, or wear the cable. Unions should not be employed in making joints.

24. Pipe or conduit must be rigidly and permanently secured in position. Pipe straps and hangers of standard forms may be employed for this purpose. In every case supports must be provided at points sufficiently numerous to prevent sagging. Pipe straps (if used) must be of metal of sufficient thickness to insure a permanent fastening and must be thoroughly coated to prevent corrosion.

Bends and Offsets:

25. Bends of small radius or through much of an arc, introduce possibilities of binding of the cable or of an appreciable friction resisting the pull of the cable; therefore, approved roller fittings shall be required wherever the pipe or conduit is bent to a radius of less than 4 inches, or wherever the bend is through an arc exceeding 15 degrees, except as outlined for offsets.

26. When connections to control boxes are made from below, it is frequently necessary to make an offset in the conduit to avoid a water table or other part of a building wall. One offset of not more than 2 inches will be permitted for each installation at such points. The bends in the pipe forming the offsets must be carefully made to avoid cracking the enamel or galvanized coating, or the flattening or cracking of the pipe or conduit. The amount of offset shall not exceed 2 inches and the length of the offset shall not be less than five times the amount of the offset. For example, a 2-inch offset must be at least 10 inches long. Single offsets only shall be permitted. Double offsets are not acceptable.

Roller Fittings:

27. For turns in the conduit greater than those mentioned above, approved roller fittings shall be used. No roller fittings turning more than 90 degrees from a straight line shall be used.

Automatic Control:

28. The fusible link which controls actuation of the valve in the event of direct heat, shall melt at not less than 225 degrees F. and shall be so arranged as to in no way interfere with the manual means of shutting off the gas which is controlled by the handle in box placed on the face of the building. Only approved fusible links shall be used. Automatic control shall in no way depend upon electric current for its operation.

Production Tests at Factory:

29. Valves must be tight under the following tests:

(a) Valves shall be mounted in the position in which they are designed to operate. Normal city gas pressure or equivalent air pressure shall be applied to the inlet side and the valve shall completely shut off the gas or air when closed as in normal operation.

(b) To determine whether the valve shuts off tightly under this test, a tube shall be connected with the outlet side of the valve and the outer end of the tube shall be immersed in water to a depth not exceeding one (1) inch, indicating leakage by bubbles rising through the water from the end of this tube.

(c) Valves, after this test, shall be capable of shutting off ten (10) pounds air pressure applied to the inlet side; to determine whether the valve is tight, the test procedure shall be as indicated in the preceding test.

(d) Valve bodies shall be strong enough to withstand, without leakage, one hundred (100) pounds pressure applied from either end with the other end closed. In this test the entire valve, including the stuffing box, shall be completely immersed in water, so that leakage will be indicated by bubbles rising through the water.

(e) The fusible link connections of each valve shall be carefully tested to avoid prematurely operating the gas shut-off valve through vibration or concussion. The construction of the fusible link connections shall be so designed and made that the automatic feature will not operate through vibration or concussion.

(f) The entire process of manufacture of the valves shall be subject to inspection and review and each valve shall be tested at the factory by a recognized laboratory or agency with facilities for making the test prescribed by the Board of Standards and Appeals, and each valve must bear satisfactory evidence that it has been so tested.

(g) Manufacturers of gas shut-off valves must submit the name or names of said laboratories or agencies to the Fire Commissioner or the Tenement House Commissioner, in their respective jurisdictions, with satisfactory evidence of their ability and facilities to properly carry out said tests.

(h) Valves and operating mechanisms shall be so designed and constructed that they will withstand the deteriorating effects or corrosion, as evidenced by operating tests.

Installation and Inspection Tests:

30. a. After shut-off valve is installed, it shall be set and operated to determine that proper closure is secured by operating the control handle. Particular care should be taken to observe that when operating the control handle, no part of the cable or of its attachment to the valve interferes in any way with the positive closure of the valve.

b. After the above test, all gas outlets in the building must be inspected to insure their being closed before the valve shall be set and the gas turned on. Valve and connections shall also be tested for leaks by applying a solution of soap and water to all parts, including connections to gas piping.

c. After the valve has been used to shut off gas, it shall be reset only by authorized corporations, firms or individuals, or by members of the Fire Department.

d. Operating and installation corporations, firms or individuals responsible for the installation of the gas shut-off valves shall permanently maintain properly equipped service stations in each of the boroughs where they install valves.

Gas shut-off valves and installations shall be inspected at least once a year by members of the Fire Department or the Tenement House Department, in their respective jurisdictions, or by corporations, firms or individuals authorized to install gas shut-off valves, as determined by the Fire Commissioner or the Tenement House Commissioner, in their respective jurisdictions.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.

RULES

RULES FOR THE CONSTRUCTION AND INSTALLATION OF GAS SHUT-OFF VALVES, ADOPTED BY THE BOARD OF STANDARDS AND APPEALS, JANUARY 11, 1924.

RULES FOR GAS SHUT-OFF VALVES TO COMPLY WITH ORDINANCE AMENDING ARTICLE 2 OF CHAPTER 12 OF THE CODE OF ORDINANCES, RELATING TO CONTROL OF GAS IN CERTAIN BUILDINGS IN CASE OF FIRE.

1. Gas shut-off valves and accessory appliances shall include valves approved as such by the Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C., by the Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., Chicago, Ill., by the Associated Factory Mutual Laboratories of Boston, or other recognized standard laboratory; and all valves shall be approved and meet the test prescribed by the Board of Standards and Appeals.

2. Gas shut-off valves shall be installed only by corporations, firm or individuals who shall furnish evidence of their qualifications under the Code of Ordinances, to the Fire Commissioner or the Tenement House Commissioner in their respective jurisdictions.

3. Such corporations, firms, or individuals shall maintain a Service Station which shall be in direct communication with the Fire Department by telephone or telegraph. Location of service station and means of communication shall be on file with the Fire Commissioner, in order that the Fire Department may insure immediate service when the gas is turned off by the members of the Fire Department or from any other cause.

The Fire Department shall have exclusive use of gas shut-off valves to be operated in the event of fire or other emergencies.

4. All gas shut-off valves to be installed must be made of the best quality of standard materials.

Protection of Valves:

5. The gas shut-off control shall be protected by a suitable, approved metal box, placed on the exterior of the building, which shall be connected, through a rigid metal conduit, by a cable, with the valve body placed on the gas intake where the gas pipe enters the building, and as near as practicable to the inside face of the wall, before reaching the meters. The lock for securing box on outside wall of building shall be operative only by a Fire Department inner box key by members of the Fire Department.

6. All valve bodies shall be made of brass or bronze. If a spring is used to actuate a valve in conjunction with the fusible link, it shall be of the best quality phosphor bronze.

7. The internal mechanism which acts to shut off the gas shall be securely connected with the external mechanism by a direct mechanical connection, made gas tight, where it passes through the valve body, by a stuffing box filled with soft, well-lubricated packing, in accordance with recognized standard practice.

Installation:

8. The valve shall be so installed as to be conspicuously displayed and readily inspected and reset by authorized persons.

Valves shall be located so that condensation will not accumulate in the valves; and shall be installed so that gas will flow through the valve in direction indicated on it.

9. Valves shall be secured in piping by threaded connections or companion flanges. Combustible packing or sheet lead shall not be used between flanges.

10. The gas main at both ends of the valve must be rigid and secure to withstand the pull from the control handle. Additional non-combustible brackets or hangers must be provided, if necessary, to secure and maintain rigid installation.

11. The valve shall be enclosed in a substantial, perforated metal case, conspicuously exposed, painted red, protected by standard lock acceptable to the Fire Prevention Bureau, and shall indicate the name, telephone number and address of installer, to insure prompt service to property owner.

12. Casing of the valve on gas intake shall be kept locked to protect valve from interference and make it accessible only to authorized persons. Perforations, to allow circulation of air around fusible link, shall be provided and so arranged as to prevent tampering with valve when casing is locked.

Control Box:

13. The control handle for the manual closing of the valve shall be in a locked metal control box having a cast iron cover conspicuously labeled with raised letters, painted red.

14. On the outside of the cover or the inside of the control box, in raised or stamped letters, or on a securely fastened metal plate, shall be displayed concise operating directions, together with the name, initials or registered trademark of the manufacturer.

15. The control box must be placed as nearly vertically above the point where the gas main enters the premises as is practicable, when this does not involve excessive length of cable and extra turns, and at a height above the sidewalk or grade, of not less than two (2) feet and not more than five (5) feet. Without special permission, the control box shall not be placed or mounted on basement window frames, or directly above basement windows or other openings, nor shall it be located behind doors or other obstructions which would prevent the Fire Department from having easy access to it.

16. Control boxes must be securely and permanently fastened. Whenever possible, they shall be fastened to a non-combustible wall, pillar or column. They shall be secured by not less than two 3/16 inch bolts or the equivalent. Unless the building is so constructed that the control box must unavoidably be secured to a wooden part, the use of wood screws is not permitted for supporting countersunk control boxes; lag bolts shall be used. When the walls are of masonry or concrete, through bolts, expansion bolts or toggle bolts shall be used. All fastenings must be arranged so that they cannot be loosened except from inside opening of the control box.

17. Control boxes may be set or recessed into the wall to a depth not greater than the depth of the box so that cover is flush with the face of the wall. Control boxes may be mounted directly on the surface of the wall.

18. The control box shall be located on the outside of the building wall, facing the street, whenever possible. When the control box is installed on an alley face of a building, or in a similar place where the control box is subject to injury from passing vehicles, etc., the control box must be thoroughly protected. This may be done by having the control box recessed, marked by waterproof red paint ring and waterproof white paint ring on the wall or, when such protection is not available, protected by heavy iron channels or angles secured to the wall by through bolts, expansion bolts, or toggle bolts.

Control Handles:

19. Control handles shall be of standard construction arranged to fit the control boxes so that they may be locked without difficulty, and cable connections shall be securely made in an approved manner, according to the design of the handle.

RULES

Cable:

20. The connection between the valve and control handle shall be as direct as practicable, and shall consist of a single piece of stranded phosphor bronze cable not less than 3/32 inch in diameter. No splices in the cable shall be permitted.

21. It is essential that cable connections to valve and handle be securely made according to the design in each case. The cable may be slightly annealed for making ends, and when cutting the cable, it should be taped and cut through the tape, or a small amount of solder applied where it is to be cut, so as to prevent frayed end.

Conduit:

22. The control cable for the shut-off valve shall be run in galvanized wrought iron or steel pipe or other standard approved conduit not less than 1/2 inch in pipe size. The pipe or conduit line must be water-tight and continuous from the casing enclosing the operating mechanism of the valve to the control box on outside of building. The cable shall not be exposed at any point in its length.

23. All ends of pipe or conduit, not only at valve and control box terminals, but in the run of the piping, shall be carefully reamed so as to remove burrs and fins caused by cutting-off tools, which would interfere with the movement of the cable in the run, or cut, or wear the cable. Unions should not be employed in making joints.

24. Pipe or conduit must be rigidly and permanently secured in position. Pipe straps and hangers of standard forms may be employed for this purpose. In every case supports must be provided at points sufficiently numerous to prevent sagging. Pipe straps (if used) must be of metal of sufficient thickness to insure a permanent fastening and must be thoroughly coated to prevent corrosion.

Bends and Offsets:

25. Bends of small radius or through much of an arc, introduce possibilities of binding of the cable or of an appreciable friction resisting the pull of the cable; therefore, approved roller fittings shall be required wherever the pipe or conduit is bent to a radius of less than 4 inches, or wherever the bend is through an arc exceeding 15 degrees, except as outlined for offsets.

26. When connections to control boxes are made from below, it is frequently necessary to make an offset in the conduit to avoid a water table or other part of a building wall. One offset of not more than 2 inches will be permitted for each installation at such points. The bends in the pipe forming the offsets must be carefully made to avoid cracking the enamel or galvanized coating, or the flattening or cracking of the pipe or conduit. The amount of offset shall not exceed 2 inches and the length of the offset shall not be less than five times the amount of the offset. For example, a 2-inch offset must be at least 10 inches long. Single offsets only shall be permitted. Double offsets are not acceptable.

Roller Fittings:

27. For turns in the conduit greater than those mentioned above, approved roller fittings shall be used. No roller fittings turning more than 90 degrees from a straight line shall be used.

Automatic Control:

28. The fusible link which controls actuation of the valve in the event of direct heat, shall melt at not less than 225 degrees F. and shall be so arranged as to in no way interfere with the manual means of shutting off the gas which is controlled by the handle in box placed on the face of the building. Only approved fusible links shall be used. Automatic control shall in no way depend upon electric current for its operation.

Production Tests at Factory:

29. Valves must be tight under the following tests:

(a) Valves shall be mounted in the position in which they are designed to operate. Normal city gas pressure or equivalent air pressure shall be applied to the inlet side and the valve shall completely shut off the gas or air when closed as in normal operation.

(b) To determine whether the valve shuts off tightly under this test, a tube shall be connected with the outlet side of the valve and the outer end of the tube shall be immersed in water to a depth not exceeding one (1) inch, indicating leakage by bubbles rising through the water from the end of this tube.

(c) Valves, after this test, shall be capable of shutting off ten (10) pounds air pressure applied to the inlet side; to determine whether the valve is tight, the test procedure shall be as indicated in the preceding test.

(d) Valve bodies shall be strong enough to withstand, without leakage, one hundred (100) pounds pressure applied from either end with the other end closed. In this test the entire valve, including the stuffing box, shall be completely immersed in water, so that leakage will be indicated by bubbles rising through the water.

(e) The fusible link connections of each valve shall be carefully tested to avoid prematurely operating the gas shut-off valve through vibration or concussion. The construction of the fusible link connections shall be so designed and made that the automatic feature will not operate through vibration or concussion.

(f) The entire process of manufacture of the valves shall be subject to inspection and review and each valve shall be tested at the factory by a recognized laboratory or agency with facilities for making the test prescribed by the Board of Standards and Appeals, and each valve must bear satisfactory evidence that it has been so tested.

(g) Manufacturers of gas shut-off valves must submit the name or names of said laboratories or agencies to the Fire Commissioner or the Tenement House Commissioner, in their respective jurisdictions, with satisfactory evidence of their ability and facilities to properly carry out said tests.

(h) Valves and operating mechanisms shall be so designed and constructed that they will withstand the deteriorating effects or corrosion, as evidenced by operating tests.

Installation and Inspection Tests:

30. a. After shut-off valve is installed, it shall be set and operated to determine that proper closure is secured by operating the control handle. Particular care should be taken to observe that when operating the control handle, no part of the cable or of its attachment to the valve interferes in any way with the positive closure of the valve.

b. After the above test, all gas outlets in the building must be inspected to insure their being closed before the valve shall be set and the gas turned on. Valve and connections shall also be tested for leaks by applying a solution of soap and water to all parts, including connections to gas piping.

c. After the valve has been used to shut off gas, it shall be reset only by authorized corporations, firms or individuals, or by members of the Fire Department.

d. Operating and installation corporations, firms or individuals responsible for the installation of the gas shut-off valves shall permanently maintain properly equipped service stations in each of the boroughs where they install valves.

Gas shut-off valves and installations shall be inspected at least once a year by members of the Fire Department or the Tenement House Department, in their respective jurisdictions, or by corporations, firms or individuals authorized to install gas shut-off valves, as determined by the Fire Commissioner or the Tenement House Commissioner, in their respective jurisdictions.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.

EXISTING FIRE ESCAPES OF FACTORIES.

3. When in addition to the required exits from any factory or factory building, there exist other means of egress which are not entirely in accordance with the requirements of the Labor Law and the Rules of the Board of Standards and Appeals, such means of egress may be retained under the following conditions.

(a) Fire Escapes.—All substandard fire escapes on factory buildings shall be removed or reconstructed in accordance with Section 274 of the Labor Law, except that in lieu of a counterbalanced stair a drop ladder in guides from the lowest balcony to ground may be provided. Substandard fire escapes shall not be considered as a basis for increased occupancy of the building. WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

RULES

COMMUNITY LAUNDRIES IN BUSINESS DISTRICTS

Amended Resolution Adopted by the Board of Appeals, March 16, 1920, Under Cal. No. 549-17-BZ.

WHEREAS, the board of appeals, at its regular meeting, December 16, 1919, unanimously rescinded an opinion incidentally expressed and incorporated in a resolution adopted by the board on May 28, 1917, in acting on Cal. No. 549-17-BZ. This opinion was that a laundry is not a prohibited use in a business district under the building zone resolution. The board unanimously rescinded this expression of opinion, inasmuch as a laundry is a factory within the meaning of the labor law and must be so construed under the building zone resolution in the absence of any definition therein to the contrary.

Resolved, that this shall not be construed to include within the prohibited uses specified under Section 4 of the building zone resolution a community or neighborhood laundry located in the basement or ground floor of a building within a business district and containing not more than eight (8) rotary washing machines with inside cylinders not more than 30 in. in diameter by 30 in. in length over all nor more than two 20 in. extractors, the 20 in. measurement being the diameter of the inside basket, which machines and extractors shall be operated solely by electric power and do not require the installation of steam boiler or plant.

RULES

RULES FOR THE CONSTRUCTION AND INSTALLATION OF GAS SHUT-OFF VALVES, ADOPTED BY THE BOARD OF STANDARDS AND APPEALS, JANUARY 11, 1924.

RULES FOR GAS SHUT-OFF VALVES TO COMPLY WITH ORDINANCE AMENDING ARTICLE 2 OF CHAPTER 12 OF THE CODE OF ORDINANCES, RELATING TO CONTROL OF GAS IN CERTAIN BUILDINGS IN CASE OF FIRE.

1. Gas shut-off valves and accessory appliances shall include valves approved as such by the Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C., by the Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., Chicago, Ill., by the Associated Factory Mutual Laboratories of Boston, or other recognized standard laboratory; and all valves shall be approved and meet the test prescribed by the Board of Standards and Appeals.

2. Gas shut-off valves shall be installed only by corporations, firm or individuals who shall furnish evidence of their qualifications under the Code of Ordinances, to the Fire Commissioner or the Tenement House Commissioner in their respective jurisdictions.

3. Such corporations, firms, or individuals shall maintain a Service Station which shall be in direct communication with the Fire Department by telephone or telegraph. Location of service station and means of communication shall be on file with the Fire Commissioner, in order that the Fire Department may insure immediate service when the gas is turned off by the members of the Fire Department or from any other cause.

The Fire Department shall have exclusive use of gas shut-off valves to be operated in the event of fire or other emergencies.

4. All gas shut-off valves to be installed must be made of the best quality of standard materials.

Protection of Valves:

5. The gas shut-off control shall be protected by a suitable, approved metal box, placed on the exterior of the building, which shall be connected, through a rigid metal conduit, by a cable, with the valve body placed on the gas intake where the gas pipe enters the building, and as near as practicable to the inside face of the wall, before reaching the meters. The lock for securing box on outside wall of building shall be operative only by a Fire Department inner box key by members of the Fire Department.

6. All valve bodies shall be made of brass or bronze. If a spring is used to actuate a valve in conjunction with the fusible link, it shall be of the best quality phosphor bronze.

7. The internal mechanism which acts to shut off the gas shall be securely connected with the external mechanism by a direct mechanical connection, made gas tight, where it passes through the valve body, by a stuffing box filled with soft, well-lubricated packing, in accordance with recognized standard practice.

Installation:

8. The valve shall be so installed as to be conspicuously displayed and readily inspected and reset by authorized persons.

Valves shall be located so that condensation will not accumulate in the valves; and shall be installed so that gas will flow through the valve in direction indicated on it.

9. Valves shall be secured in piping by threaded connections or companion flanges. Combustible packing or sheet lead shall not be used between flanges.

10. The gas main at both ends of the valve must be rigid and secure to withstand the pull from the control handle. Additional non-combustible brackets or hangers must be provided, if necessary, to secure and maintain rigid installation.

11. The valve shall be enclosed in a substantial, perforated metal case, conspicuously exposed, painted red, protected by standard lock acceptable to the Fire Prevention Bureau, and shall indicate the name, telephone number and address of installer, to insure prompt service to property owner.

12. Casing of the valve on gas intake shall be kept locked to protect valve from interference and make it accessible only to authorized persons. Perforations, to allow circulation of air around fusible link, shall be provided and so arranged as to prevent tampering with valve when casing is locked.

Control Box:

13. The control handle for the manual closing of the valve shall be in a locked metal control box having a cast iron cover conspicuously labeled with raised letters, painted red.

14. On the outside of the cover or the inside of the control box, in raised or stamped letters, or on a securely fastened metal plate, shall be displayed concise operating directions, together with the name, initials or registered trademark of the manufacturer.

15. The control box must be placed as nearly vertically above the point where the gas main enters the premises as is practicable, when this does not involve excessive length of cable and extra turns, and at a height above the sidewalk or grade, of not less than two (2) feet and not more than five (5) feet. Without special permission, the control box shall not be placed or mounted on basement window frames, or directly above basement windows or other openings, nor shall it be located behind doors or other obstructions which would prevent the Fire Department from having easy access to it.

16. Control boxes must be securely and permanently fastened. Whenever possible, they shall be fastened to a non-combustible wall, pillar or column. They shall be secured by not less than two 3/16 inch bolts or the equivalent. Unless the building is so constructed that the control box must unavoidably be secured to a wooden part, the use of wood screws is not permitted for supporting countersunk control boxes; lag bolts shall be used. When the walls are of masonry or concrete, through bolts, expansion bolts or toggle bolts shall be used. All fastenings must be arranged so that they cannot be loosened except from inside opening of the control box.

17. Control boxes may be set or recessed into the wall to a depth not greater than the depth of the box so that cover is flush with the face of the wall. Control boxes may be mounted directly on the surface of the wall.

18. The control box shall be located on the outside of the building wall, facing the street, whenever possible. When the control box is installed on an alley face of a building, or in a similar place where the control box is subject to injury from passing vehicles, etc., the control box must be thoroughly protected. This may be done by having the control box recessed, marked by waterproof red paint ring and waterproof white paint ring on the wall, or, when such protection is not available, protected by heavy iron channels or angles secured to the wall by through bolts, expansion bolts, or toggle bolts.

Control Handles:

19. Control handles shall be of standard construction, arranged to fit the control boxes so that they may be locked without difficulty, and cable connections shall be securely made in an approved manner, according to the design of the handle.

RULES

Cable:

20. The connection between the valve and control handle shall be as direct as practicable, and shall consist of a single piece of stranded phosphor bronze cable not less than 3/32 inch in diameter. No splices in the cable shall be permitted.

21. It is essential that cable connections to valve and handle be securely made according to the design in each case. The cable may be slightly annealed for making ends, and when cutting the cable, it should be taped and cut through the tape, or a small amount of solder applied where it is to be cut, so as to prevent frayed end.

Conduit:

22. The control cable for the shut-off valve shall be run in galvanized wrought iron or steel pipe or other standard approved conduit not less than 1/2 inch in pipe size. The pipe or conduit line must be water-tight and continuous from the casing enclosing the operating mechanism of the valve to the control box on outside of building. The cable shall not be exposed at any point in its length.

23. All ends of pipe or conduit, not only at valve and control box terminals, but in the run of the piping, shall be carefully reamed so as to remove burrs and fins caused by cutting-off tools, which would interfere with the movement of the cable in the run, or cut, or wear the cable. Unions should not be employed in making joints.

24. Pipe or conduit must be rigidly and permanently secured in position. Pipe straps and hangers of standard forms may be employed for this purpose. In every case supports must be provided at points sufficiently numerous to prevent sagging. Pipe straps (if used) must be of metal of sufficient thickness to insure a permanent fastening and must be thoroughly coated to prevent corrosion.

Bends and Offsets:

25. Bends of small radius or through much of an arc, introduce possibilities of binding of the cable or of an appreciable friction resisting the pull of the cable; therefore, approved roller fittings shall be required wherever the pipe or conduit is bent to a radius of less than 4 inches, or wherever the bend is through an arc exceeding 15 degrees, except as outlined for offsets.

26. When connections to control boxes are made from below, it is frequently necessary to make an offset in the conduit to avoid a water table or other part of a building wall. One offset of not more than 2 inches will be permitted for each installation at such points. The bends in the pipe forming the offsets must be carefully made to avoid cracking the enamel or galvanized coating, or the flattening or cracking of the pipe or conduit. The amount of offset shall not exceed 2 inches and the length of the offset shall not be less than five times the amount of the offset. For example, a 2-inch offset must be at least 10 inches long. Single offsets only shall be permitted. Double offsets are not acceptable.

Roller Fittings:

27. For turns in the conduit greater than those mentioned above, approved roller fittings shall be used. No roller fittings turning more than 90 degrees from a straight line shall be used.

Automatic Control:

28. The fusible link which controls actuation of the valve in the event of direct heat, shall melt at not less than 225 degrees F. and shall be so arranged as to in no way interfere with the manual means of shutting off the gas which is controlled by the handle in box placed on the face of the building. Only approved fusible links shall be used. Automatic control shall in no way depend upon electric current for its operation.

Production Tests at Factory:

29. Valves must be tight under the following tests:

(a) Valves shall be mounted in the position in which they are designed to operate. Normal city gas pressure or equivalent air pressure shall be applied to the inlet side and the valve shall completely shut off the gas or air when closed as in normal operation.

(b) To determine whether the valve shuts off tightly under this test, a tube shall be connected with the outlet side of the valve and the outer end of the tube shall be immersed in water to a depth not exceeding one (1) inch, indicating leakage by bubbles rising through the water from the end of this tube.

(c) Valves, after this test, shall be capable of shutting off ten (10) pounds air pressure applied to the inlet side; to determine whether the valve is tight, the test procedure shall be as indicated in the preceding test.

(d) Valve bodies shall be strong enough to withstand, without leakage, one hundred (100) pounds pressure applied from either end with the other end closed. In this test the entire valve, including the stuffing box, shall be completely immersed in water, so that leakage will be indicated by bubbles rising through the water.

(e) The fusible link connections of each valve shall be carefully tested to avoid prematurely operating the gas shut-off valve through vibration or concussion. The construction of the fusible link connections shall be so designed and made that the automatic feature will not operate through vibration or concussion.

(f) The entire process of manufacture of the valves shall be subject to inspection and review and each valve shall be tested at the factory by a recognized laboratory or agency with facilities for making the test prescribed by the Board of Standards and Appeals, and each valve must bear satisfactory evidence that it has been so tested.

(g) Manufacturers of gas shut-off valves must submit the name or names of said laboratories or agencies to the Fire Commissioner or the Tenement House Commissioner, in their respective jurisdictions, with satisfactory evidence of their ability and facilities to properly carry out said tests.

(h) Valves and operating mechanisms shall be so designed and constructed that they will withstand the deteriorating effects or corrosion, as evidenced by operating tests.

Installation and Inspection Tests:

30. a. After shut-off valve is installed, it shall be set and operated to determine that proper closure is secured by operating the control handle. Particular care should be taken to observe that when operating the control handle, no part of the cable or of its attachment to the valve interferes in any way with the positive closure of the valve.

b. After the above test, all gas outlets in the building must be inspected to insure their being closed before the valve shall be set and the gas turned on. Valve and connections shall also be tested for leaks by applying a solution of soap and water to all parts, including connections to gas piping.

c. After the valve has been used to shut off gas, it shall be reset only by authorized corporations, firms or individuals, or by members of the Fire Department.

d. Operating and installation corporations, firms or individuals responsible for the installation of the gas shut-off valves shall permanently maintain properly equipped service stations in each of the boroughs where they install valves.

Gas shut-off valves and installations shall be inspected at least once a year by members of the Fire Department or the Tenement House Department, in their respective jurisdictions, or by corporations, firms or individuals authorized to install gas shut-off valves, as determined by the Fire Commissioner or the Tenement House Commissioner, in their respective jurisdictions.

WARNING.

Notice is hereby given to all petitioners, appellants and applicants for relief at the hands of the Board of Standards and Appeals and of the Board of Appeals, and to all lawyers, architects and engineers representing owners or lessees in proceedings before these boards—

First, That if they do not appear in person or by representative at the hearing on their case, dismissal for lack of prosecution is likely to result.

Second, That due and ample notice of the date set for hearing is provided in the publication in this BULLETIN of the calendars of these boards, each case being set down by Calendar Number and premises under the date of the hearing.

Third, That no plea of ignorance of the date of the hearing can be entertained in view of this publication and of the posting of the calendars on the bulletin board in the offices of the board and of the further publication of the calendars in the daily press.

Fourth, That no one is entitled to written notice of the date for the hearing in his case, and that the plea of failure to receive such notice is no excuse for neglect to appear.

Fifth, That the business of these boards is to dispose of all cases promptly, for the reason that the pendency of an appeal or petition ties the hands of the administrative official in enforcing his order; therefore, no appeal or petition will be allowed to be hung up by reason of failure of the appellant or petitioner to file necessary data, or by any other method of delay.
